Kosygin Touring Toronto Under Heavy Guard

TORONTO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, guarded by a virtual army of police after threats against his life, tours the Toronto area today. Police seized guns and ammunition in the largest raids in recent Toronto history before his arrival Sunday.

The visiting Soviet leader today had scheduled a trip to a nuclear generating station in nearby Pickering, Ont., and an address to the Canadian Manufacturers Association dinner in Toronto.

Canadian officials said Kosygin would cancel a planned visit to the General Motors of Canada truck assembly plant in Oshawa because Soviet authorities thought his schedule was "overloaded." The Canadian officials said there were "no security implications" in the cancellation.

Two persons were arrested in the Sunday morning police raids which netted automatic rifles, automatic pistols, revolvers, other handguns, ammunition, bayonets and "other materials."

Inspector Roy Splet of the Toronto Police Department's Intelligence Bureau, who led the raids, said police had received "information that attempts would be made to assassinate Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin." He said the 18 raids, some of which were carried out against members of the right-wing Edmund Burke Society (EBS), "were purely preventive."

"We're concerned that someone will make an attempt on Mr. Kosygin's life," he said. "This is the last chance they'll get at him." Police Chief Harold Adamson said some of the tips leading to the raids were "serious."

He said the raids, conducted by more than 40 police officers over a period of more than two hours, were "the largest security raids in recent years."

Several hundred police surrounded the modern inn on the park where Kosygin is staying. Sharpshooters were stationed on the hotel's roof and police checked the interiors and trunks of all cars entering the hotel.

Veterans Day Antiwar Protest Underway

Nixon Promises to Seek Lasting World Peace

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon, warning the American people against unrealistic expectations about his forthcoming trips to China and the Soviet Union, promised in a Veterans Day speech to do "all that reasonable men may do" to win lasting world peace.

"There are great differences between the government of the United States and the governments of the Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China," Nixon said. "But we have much in common with the Russian people and the Chinese people. We share this earth. We share a love for our children. And we share an understanding of the ultimate futility of war."

Nixon made his Veterans Day comments Sunday night in a nationwide radio address broadcast from his mountaintop retreat in western Maryland. He took note of recent progress in arms negotiations with the Soviet Union, of various treaties and other moves towards peace, adding:

"Today we are preparing to take additional steps toward an end to the conflicts which have divided so many of the world's people. My trips to Moscow and Peking are directed toward that goal. We go with no false hopes, and we intend to leave behind us in America no unrealistic expectations."

While achieving a lasting peace may "still be long and difficult," he added, "all that reasonable men may do to accomplish that lasting peace will be done."

He said the administration's effort to win jobs for veterans placed more than 121,000 Vietnam era vets in jobs or in job training slots during July and August.

"Beyond these programs," he said, "each of us in his own community must also hold out a helping hand to those who have served."

Related Vietnam stories on page 30.

He also said the present generation of veterans "have suffered from the frustration which this war has generated among many Americans. We must not permit this. A nation which condemns those who serve it will find itself condemned in turn."

"On this Veterans Day 1971," Nixon added, "we have a greater opportunity to build a lasting peace than at any time in this century. We have before us the best chance in this century to make the present generation of American war veterans the last generation of American war veterans."

Meanwhile, in the first anti-war protest since a record 7,000 persons were arrested May 3, Rennie Davis led 10,000 in a two-day demonstration aimed at ousting President Nixon.

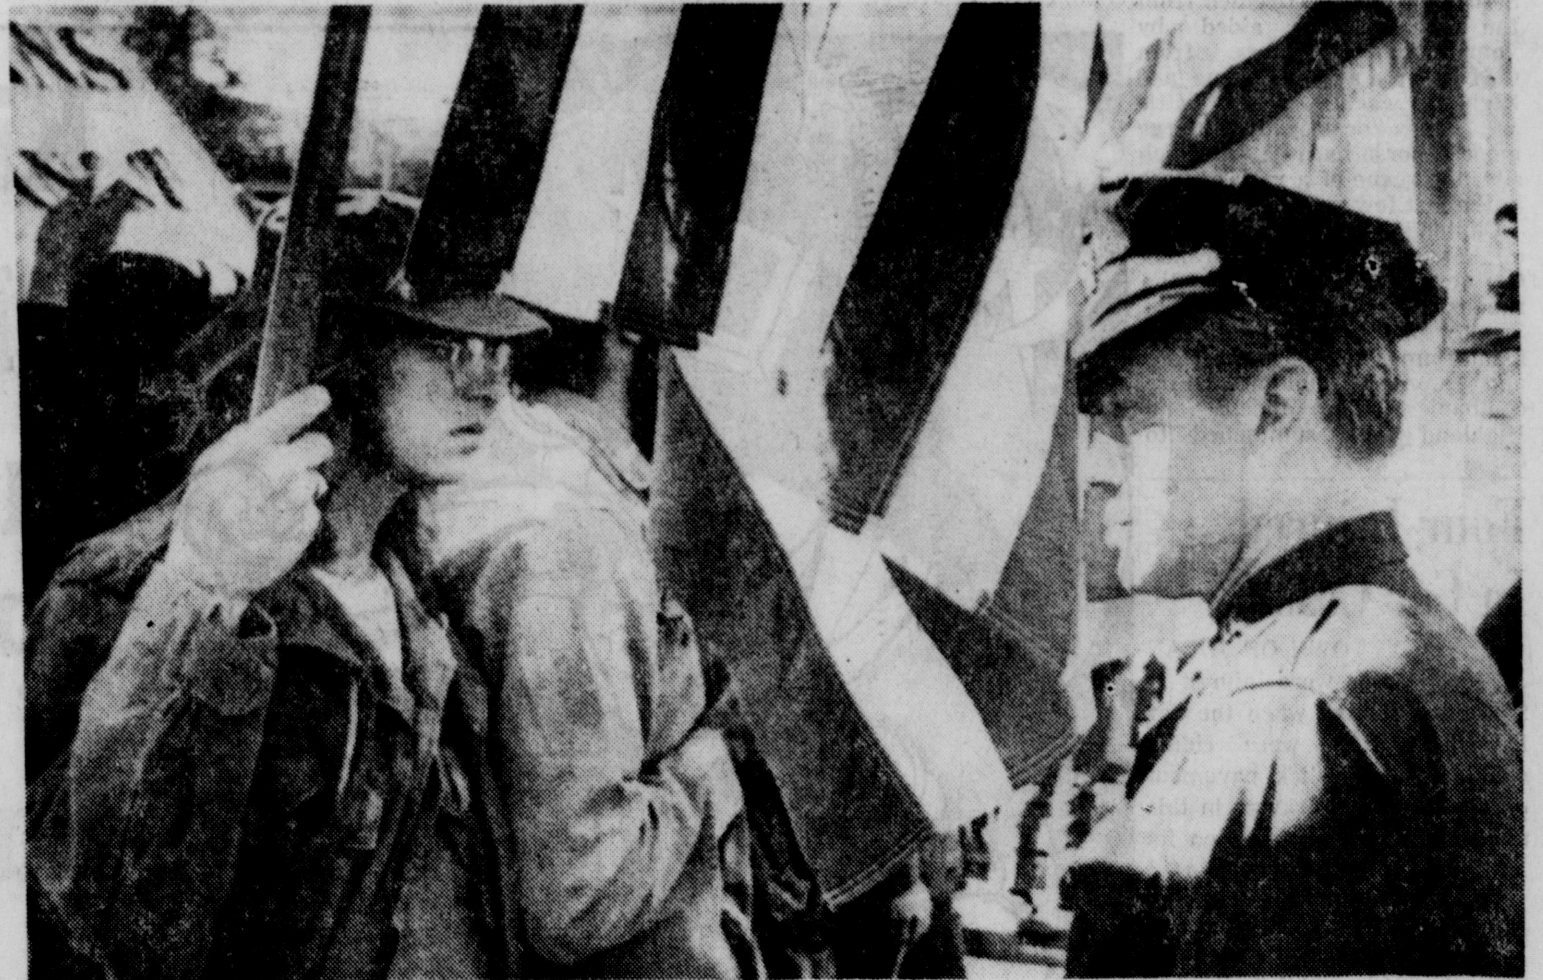

Today's program in the "Evict Nixon" campaign was billed as peaceful, with the highlight expected to be a transatlantic telephone call from Dr. Benjamin Spock to Nguyen Minh Vy of the North Vietnamese delegation at the Paris Peace Talks.

At the request of the Justice Department, an estimated 2,000 troops were put on alert in preparation for the demonstrations, which Davis said would draw 10,000.

The People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, organizers of last spring's May Day civil disobedience demonstrations here, says it has obtained a permit to rally at the Washington Monument grounds today and then march in a single-file, candlelight procession past the White House.

As well as stressing that it will be nonviolent, Davis said the rally will be "the most historic gathering of people in the past 100 years."

The former 4-H Club member, who was judged best chicken judge in the Middle Atlantic region when he was a student at Clarke County, Va., High School, said any confrontation between police and protesters would probably come Tuesday.

Spiro Returns From 14-Day Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is home, ready to tell President Nixon what he learned of the Greek dictatorship, what he heard from Emperor Haile Selassie about Communist China, and, perhaps, about the flavor of roast peacock served in full plumage near the Persian ruins of Persepolis.

Agnew has disclosed little about the substance of his formal conferences during a 14-day journey of nearly 17,000 miles to Ankara, Turkey, to Iran's royal anniversary camp at Persepolis, and to Greece, the nation of his forebears.

In Ankara and Athens, Agnew said he had conferred about matters relating to NATO, and that he had renewed confidence in the commitment of those governments to maintain the southern flank of the alliance.

A spokesman said Agnew would deliver his report to Nixon sometime this week.

Fully half the trip was spent in Greece, in Athens and at his father's birthplace of Gargalioi, and on the islands of Crete and Rhodes.

While Agnew said he was confident Greek Prime minister George Papadopoulos intends to restore representative government, the joint appearances and the sentiment of his trip there, which sometimes had the flavor of a political campaign, could only strengthen the efforts of Athens to show that the present authoritarian regime is all right with the administration.

There was no public indication Agnew had applied pressure or persuasion for steps toward representative rule.

The journey took Agnew from a restrained reception in Ankara to the cheers, myrtle and laurel boughs, flower petals and church bells of a hero's welcome on tour in Greece.

There were crowds at every announced stop. The government encouraged big turnouts, but the receptions seemed genuine and warm.

Between the capitals of Ankara and Athens, Agnew spent three days at the luxurious desert camp built by the Shah of Iran to commemorate at Persepolis the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian throne.

It was there that he talked to Selassie, the emperor of Ethiopia, who was just back from Communist China, and gained information he said would be of interest to Nixon. He would not disclose its nature.

There, too, in the splendor of a Persian feast in a 242-foot-long imperial big top, Agnew discovered he has a taste for peacock, especially when it is flown in from Maxim's in Paris.

But Greece, obviously, was for Agnew the highlight of the journey. Two of his daughters joined him there. Thousands of Greeks applauded and waved small American flags as he drove into Athens on Oct. 16.

Two American-owned automobiles had been damaged by small bombs early in the day, but there was no hint of dissent as Agnew arrived.

British Soldier Wounded As Ulster Violence Continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Two gunmen shot and wounded a British soldier and a woman was hospitalized with gunshot injuries during a troop search in the Roman Catholic Anderstown area of the capital today, the army said.

An army spokesman said the soldier received a slight arm injury. Neither the condition of the woman nor the details of how she was shot was immediately known.

The shootings followed a weekend of violence in the province, capped off Sunday night when police opened fire on two men and a woman suspected of planting a time bomb in a crowded nightclub.

The device exploded two hours later, heavily damaging the by then empty building but causing no injuries.

An army spokesman said the two plainclothes detectives killed one of the male suspects and seriously wounded the woman. The second man was arrested half a mile away. All were carrying guns, the army said. The incident brought to seven the number of civilians killed in weekend shootings in Northern Ireland. Sniper attacks in Belfast Sunday wounded four soldiers, one of them seriously, the spokesman said. They occurred in an area where the army killed two sisters Saturday. The bomb exploded in the Downtown Celebrity Club, one of the city's best known night spots, at 12:15 a.m. today, move.

wrecking the club, setting fire to the building and overturning a car outside. The spokesman said it was one of the largest ever planted in the city. The club had been evacuated.

A man and the woman rushed into the downstairs lobby of the club shortly after 9 p.m. and were surprised by a group of guests leaving an elevator, the spokesman said. The suspects told the guests to put their hands on their heads and not to

County Demos Dinner

Licht Calls for Muskie Support

By LYNN MULVANEY

PLATTEKILL — Brickbats for the Nixon Administration and bouquets for Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. Edmund Muskie, (D-Maine) characterized the message brought by Rhode Island Gov. Frank Licht to the Ulster County Democratic Committee's annual dinner-dance Sunday night.

Addressing a record crowd at the Villa Nueva in Plattekill, Licht suggested that Muskie's compassion, knowledgeability and toughness on the issues make him the "right man to lead us."

With Muskie, he said, "you would have a country with greater economic justice... where the wage earned was considered and where corporations paid their fair share."

"You would have a country where the natural beauty and the basic natural resources of air, land and water would be passed on intact to your children and grandchildren.

"You would have a country that was vigilant about defense, but able to live in a diverse and dangerous world without panic... and without pouring our own blood and treasure into an endless series of distant and futile wars."

"You would have a country where to be old did not mean to be poor and forgotten, or to be young did not mean to be derided and ignored."

"And, you would have a country that would be a world power and have a claim on history for greatness because its social and economic and political systems were just. The claim would not rest on wealth... on guns and bombs... but on how we treated each other and how our government acted."

Licht, who was first elected to the Rhode Island Senate in 1949, said he would like "the tall man" (Muskie) to be president. "He will be a great president... This country needs a Democratic president."

Of the present Republican administration, he said, "we have moved backwards in the past two and one-half years... This country is in trouble and only a certain kind of leadership will help us out of that trouble in time."

Citing the economy, Licht told of President Nixon's "economic game plan," one that would stop inflation. "He did have a plan, he said, one that produced the highest unemployment in nine years and continued inflation."

Attacking the present national policy, Licht asked, "Does it meet the standards of equity and fairness? What about profits? If some people are supposed to sacrifice, why shouldn't everyone sacrifice?"

The dinner was the first formal occasion for a message from the Ulster County Democratic Committee's new leader, James T. McCordle who also was critical of Nixon's "game plan."

Gov. Rockefeller's imposition of the hot dog tax, and the "thirty-three months of unprecedented inflation and unemployment. He urged that the 'seeds of change' be planted in every district during the coming week before election, in order that the 'seeds may grow and prey on every Republican's mind in Ulster County. Then and only then will we reap the harvest of a sweeping Democratic victory," he concluded.

Lewis Kirschner (D-Dist. 7) was chairman of the event. Minority Leader Roger Mabie (D-Dist. 7) was master of ceremonies and Kirschner's committee consisted of Marie Gorsline and Ed Porcelli.

The Rev. F. Miguel Pascual gave the invocation and benediction. Mrs. Frank Sass sang the National Anthem and tickets were handled by Peggy Johnson and Stanley Petro Jr.

Among Democratic notables present were Kingston Mayor Francis R. Koenig, Alderman-at-large T. Robert Gallo, State committeewoman Frieda Marten's, former Kingston Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan, former congressional candidate John Dyson and numerous candidates for town and county offices.

Also, Richard Sickler, party treasurer Rose Hogan, vice chairman and Mrs. Agnes Loughran, president of the Democratic Women's Club. Florence Klein, Joseph Epstein and Jack Hogan served on the journal committee. Kaye Quick handled publicity, Lawrence Thornton, decorations, Barbara DeStefano, hostesses and Lannie Devine, boosters.

Murphy Attacks Tax Rate

KINGSTON — On Tuesday, before a meeting of the Ulster County Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Francis R. Koenig declared that Kingston is now enjoying its lowest tax rate in the past ten years. Koenig's opponent for mayor, Robert F. Murphy, the Republican-Conservative, today took strong exception to that statement.

"We would like to comment on Frank Koenig's recent remark stating that the City of Kingston has now the lowest tax rate in the past ten years, as it is very misleading and tends to suggest that the Democrats are the Kingston taxpayer's best friends. We know the opposite to be true," Murphy charged.

"For one thing, the Democratic party has been in power for the past six years, and during this time the cost of general city government has doubled. That's right it doubled! It went from $2.9 million to $5.8 million, while the population went down 13 per cent. Who's kidding who? For another thing, as recent as 1968 the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Incorporated, of Albany ranked Kingston with the highest tax rate of 60 upstate cities," Murphy said.

"So how come now we have the lowest tax rate in ten years? Well we'll tell you why," continued Murphy, "it's because Koenig has had all kinds of financial help. Namely, he's soaking us taxpayers with a seven per cent sales tax, while highest in the county! Why should we residents of Kingston be penalized more than say, the residents of Hurley, or Ulster, or Woodstock? When paying our everyday bills — telephone, fuel, etc., we pay a total of seven per cent sales tax, while our neighbors pay less. This gave the Democrats an additional one million and a half ($1,500,000.00) to play with. Aren't we the suckers?"

"Furthermore the State of New York has increased its aid to municipalities such as Kingston, which even puts more money into 'Koenig's kitty', and over the recent Democratic leadership, this amounted to four or five million dollars. Maybe the taxpayers should question Koenig-Gallo on this," Murphy continued, "because we know it takes approximately $40,000 income to decrease the tax rate one dollar, and we know the taxpayers have been greatly short changed under the Koenig administration."

In conclusion Murphy stated, "if only the taxpayers could take the time to study the 1971 Koenig budget, they would find that they are living under the most extravagant and wasteful administration this city has ever known. Of course we know it's impossible for the average citizen to get down to City Hall to study budgets, because they're too busy earning a living, trying to make ends meet, and of course, paying taxes!"

BCI Launches Investigation Of Rocking Horse Ranch Fires

By WALTER S. CLARK

CLINTONDALE — Another fire of suspicious origin erupted in a two-story frame building on the property of the Rocking Horse Ranch on Vineyard Avenue in this community early Sunday, and an intensive investigation was immediately launched by State Police BCI officers and private detectives.

The fire, in a 50 by 50-foot building occupied as a store, a shop and linen storage areas, broke out shortly after employees trained in firefighting reportedly had extinguished suspicious fires that were discovered in waste paper baskets in three or four rooms in the main structure on the ranch property.

On the early morning of Saturday, Oct. 16, firemen from the local units aided by volunteer firefighters from Clintonville, Modena and Highland waged a losing battle as flames destroyed a large modern horse barn on the ranch site, the scene of a rash of fires in the last few years.

Clintondale firemen in charge of Assistant Chief Francis Gaffney were dispatched to the ranch shortly after midnight Sunday and on arrival they found flames raging in the store and storage building. Fire companies from Modena and Highland were summoned to assist.

Four Injured In Car Crash

TOWN OF MILAN — Four persons were injured at 9:30 p.m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding skidded on rain-slick pavement on the Taconic Parkway in this township and overturned on its left side.

The driver of the vehicle, Amil Hrysko, 53, of Verona, N.J., suffered scalp lacerations and possible rupture of the kidney. Passengers in the car were Walter Dacard, 59, of New York City, who received lacerations of the left leg; John McIntosh, 50, of Newark, N. J., who sustained scalp lacerations, and Frances Eglowitz, 47, of New York City, whose left wrist was bruised.

The injured were taken to St. Francis' Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Bucky Turk, one of the owners of the ranch, said the blaze gutted the two-story structure causing an estimated loss to the building between $5,000 and $10,000 and between $15,000 and $20,000 to the stock in the store and other articles stored in the structure.

Earlier, firemen had been called to the ranch after separate fires were discovered in waste paper baskets in some of the rooms of the main building, according to Turk, who said those fires were quickly extinguished by employees trained in firefighting.

Turk noted that private detectives are working with police in an effort to determine the cause of the rash of fires at the ranch. Turk suspects a "fire bug" may be at work.

A major fire occurred at the ranch last Jan. 3, when flames completely destroyed a large horse barn. Employees at that time rescued several horses and saved about 50 saddles. About 100 other horses were in pasture during that blaze, which was believed to have started in a hayloft.

Another area fire occurred shortly before 6:30 a.m. Sunday in a three-story frame house at Sawkill Road and Hockey Hill Road in Sawkill. The house is owned by Ada Beecher, according to Assistant Chief Herbert Dixon, who said 26 local firemen with three trucks were assisted at the scene by fire units from Zena that responded with 15 men and a pumper and tank truck.

Dixon said the interior of the house was gutted. The occupants, whose names were not immediately available, evacuated the structure without incident. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Knapp Commission Head Wants Civilian Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the Knapp Commission has suggested creation of a permanent civilian body to continue investigating alleged corruption in the police department.

Whitman Knapp, whose five-man panel has been studying alleged police wrongdoing for the past 18 months, said Sunday his temporary commission should be replaced by civilians "so that investigations can be separated from the inevitable loyalties that exist when the police investigate police."

In its first week of public hearings the commission presented evidence of gambling bribes and graft from legitimate businesses through testimony, tape recordings and film.

When the hearing resumes Tuesday it will delve into alleged police protection of narcotics operations amid charges that it has unfairly condemned the entire police force.

Knapp said in a television interview Sunday that no one was on trial in the hearings.

"The purpose of the hearings is to focus public attention on an extremely serious problem," he said. "It would be an inexcusable burden on good policemen unless they resulted in a better department which permits policemen to have pride in it."

Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy stressed he has not lost pride in the department in a speech to the Shroim Society, the Jewish policemen's organization.

"My faith in you is unflinching," Murphy said. "You face far greater moral dangers than any other profession or calling, and your resistance to those moral dangers is far greater than any other profession," he said.

Michael Armstrong, the commission's counsel, said Sunday former Police Commissioner Howard Leary and two policemen whose allegations of corruption helped spur the investigation might testify this week.

The hearing also will turn to the subject of alleged freeloading by plainclothesmen and detectives at major Manhattan hotels.

In his interview, Knapp said that while he was "sickened to the seat of the stomach" when he first learned of police wrongdoing, he had not lost confidence in the performance of the 32,000-man force.

"Corrupt or not, the police respond to duty," Knapp said.

Others felt, however, that five days of testimony from police undercover agents had given the entire force a stamp of corruption without allowing opportunity for individuals to defend themselves.

The commission's first witness, patrolman William Phillips, was recruited as an undercover agent after his own graft operation was exposed by a commission agent.

Phillips, who admitted accepting bribes for policemen from the madam of a penthouse brothel, was asked how many plainclothes policemen were "on the pad," receiving regular monthly payoffs.

"Everyone, to my knowledge," Phillips replied.

The commission played a tape of Phillips' negotiations for a $1,000-a-month bribe with a commission undercover man who Phillips thought was the madam's agent. The undercover man, Teddy Ratnoff, began the conversation:

T: Now, define the other deal. We're going to get protection from the precinct?

P: Division, borough and precinct. Listen, you give me the money...I'm telling you right now, you're not going to have any problems...The only thing that would happen is the chief, something like that, the PC (police commissioner) that I can't control.

Lindsay in Mississippi, Campaigns for Evers

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — because of the coalition of poor whites, blacks and young people. Lindsay said in the speech he prepared for both cities. "We must change everywhere. The dish of poverty is just as empty in New York as it is in Jackson."

Lindsay said Evers' campaign was a "fight to open the political system to everyone."

Lindsay spoke to political rallies in behalf of Evers in Jackson and at Laurel in southern Mississippi. The speech at Laurel was delayed and the location was switched after police received two telephone bomb threats, which later proved false.

At Laurel, Evers, who is mayor of Fayette, greeted a group of striking woodcutters and said, "This is what's changing this country."

The mayor has backed and in return is reported to have received support from both white and black woodcutters, who are refusing to bring lumber to Masonite Corp. at Laurel in a dispute about load payments. Evers said he will be elected er." He said Evers' campaign "stands for reconciliation and the progressive movement."

On his arrival earlier at the Jackson airport, Lindsay was greeted by about 250 whites and blacks. A dozen men and women picketed to protest his presence, with one man saying they were demonstrating against "political agitators and carpetbaggers."

In his speech, Lindsay said, "Some people don't like the idea that I'm here. They call me a carpetbagger. They say I'm an outside agitator."

"Well, I am an outsider and that is precisely why I am here."

The mayor said, "Outsiders are all the people who this country has closed the door on."

Lindsay said, "You here have seen hope for a new South born out of a decade of turmoil. Many Southerners, black and white, now have a clear vision of what our future should be. And that vision must not be lost on the North."

Koenig—A Working Mayor

At a time when political candidates talk about doing things — how refreshing it is to have a candidate actually do them.

Frank Koenig, along with running mate Bob Gallo, has demonstrated beyond question his leadership ability in getting work done and Kingston on the move again.

Two major Urban Renewal projects well on their way to completion; $2.7 million dollars in private construction in 1970 — almost double the combined total of the previous two years; an Uptown Flood Control program which won't cost the city anything — are but a few of Frank Koenig's accomplishments during his brief two years in office. And with all this — a tax reduction of $2.25 per thousand for 1971 — the lowest Kingston taxes have been for the past ten years. Running a multi-million dollar corporation like the City of Kingston demands experienced leadership and administrative competence — certainly no job for the inexperienced — the untried.

As citizens of Kingston, we're indeed fortunate to have men of the calibre of Frank Koenig and Bob Gallo. Let's make sure they're allowed to finish the job they've started.

Former Varifab Building for Sale

HIGH FALLS
The 31,500-square-foot building that formerly housed Varifab, Inc. operations in High Falls, has been placed on the market for $100,000.

Realtor Howard L. Fox of Kingston, who is handling the sale of the property, reported that 14 acres of land is also being offered along with the building. The land is included in the $100,000 price.

On June 24 of this year, Varifab announced that it had phased out its operation of the High Falls plant, furloughed about 160 workers and moved to Old Greenwich, Conn.

At its height of operation, the plant provided an annual payroll exceeding $700,000.

Only 20 of the 160 workers employed at the plant were retained by the company.

At the time, it was emphasized that the High Falls plant would be reactivated if business conditions warrant. That possibility has now been eliminated with the intended sale of the facility.

Varifab was founded in 1953, and from that year to 1960 was housed in an eight-room private house in High Falls. The plant now for sale was constructed in 1960 after the original quarters were damaged by fire.

Varifab manufactures data collection equipment.

The firm is a subsidiary of Condec Corp. of Old Greenwich, Conn.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 25, 1971

Anti-Semitism and the White House

Jack Anderson Says

WASHINGTON — Both President Nixon and Vice President Agnew have paid high tribute to a noted anti-Jewish editor in Pittsburgh.

Their effusive accolades were published by the proud editor, Gen. Szebedinsky, in the same newspaper in which he touched such scandalously anti-Semitic tracts as the "Protocols of the Elders of Zion" and the "Myth of Six Million."

On the front page, Szebedinsky published a letter from President Nixon declaring: Your distinguished career as editor and publisher is well known to me. I am proud to join your friends and admirers in their tribute to the enviable reputation you have earned, and to the high standards you have perpetuated.

Nixon praised Szebedinsky for "four decades of unfailing dedication to the cause of freedom and human dignity and justice" and added that the anti-Semite was "deeply appreciated by countless readers within the Hungarian community and throughout the country."

This ringing praise was echoed by Agnew who said Szebedinsky's "hard work and dedication are fine examples for others to follow." Agnew's letter was also printed on page one.

On page seven, Szebedinsky urged upon his readers an assortment of anti-Jewish literature, including Henry Ford's venomous "The International Jew," which the old car maker later repudiated, the "Protocols" and three books by the late Lajos Marschalko, a notorious Nazi who lauded the Nazi butchers of Auschwitz.

Incriminating Words

In earlier editions, Szebedinsky printed other anti-Jewish diatribes. A front-page article on Oct. 31, 1969, for example, charges that Jews "put to death thousands of the best Hungarians or simply murdered them."

And in the same edition, Szebedinsky's paper claimed: "The Talmudic way of thinking reigns with the sign of revenge, celebrating orgies of lies, fraud, and self-deception."

Last March 26, Szebedinsky advised his readers that anti-Semitism is really a result of "Jewry, which is living and gasping unquenchably for revenge." Anyone believing the Nazis killed six million Jews, he also printed, is brainwashed.

After Szebedinsky published the Nixon and Agnew letters last May, the World Federation of Hungarian Jews charged that Szebedinsky once wore the uniform of the SS in World War II.

The accusation was contained in stinging letters to President Nixon and to Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., himself a Jew. The Nixon-Agnew letters, complained the Federation, were "deeply offending to the victims of Nazi barbarism."

The Federation told us the President did not reply. We checked the extensive but incomplete archives files of SS officers and found no record of Szebedinsky or a second name he used in Hungary, Janos Hortobagyi.

Szebedinsky, in two talks with us from Pittsburgh, confirmed that he served as an officer in the Hungarian army on the side of the Nazis but forcefully denied he was in the SS. "The only SS I am in," he said, "is Social Security."

Szebedinsky and Nixon

Szebedinsky said he met the President only once, eight years ago and didn't know Agnew at all. Szebedinsky admitted, when pressed, he knew the late Lajos Marschalko and has printed some of his articles.

Explained Szebedinsky: "Marschalko was a Nazi newspaperman. He came to America and the immigration officers didn't want to let him in. But he was never a killer, really a good fellow, a good drinker and he liked the girls."

On the day-in, day-out stream of anti-Jewish matter he publishes, he claimed he attacked only "Jewish Communists."

"Never, never, never in my whole life have I ever thought of anti-Semitism," he said. "Who do you believe, these nice big organizations, or me, a poor newspaperman?"

Footnote: We recently revealed that Dr. Joseph Paucou, who was Hitler's chief troubadour in Slovakia in World War II, was a key advisor to the Republican party on Slovak-American affairs. Paucou denied the charges, and for two weeks the GOP backed him up. But the clamor against Paucou grew, bulwarked by the Anti-Defamation League which dug from its own massive files still more facts on Paucou's Nazi ties. Finally, on October 6, Paucou offered his resignation and GOP National Chairman Bob Dole ratified it almost before the ink was dry. The action was taken as we were preparing a second article on the dapper Paucou, reporting how Paucou had called brave Jews "wild beasts" who "will not escape their well-deserved punishment."

The respected Czechoslovakian author, the late Dr. Joseph Lettich, charged Paucou served on a special tribunal that reviewed the sentences of courageous Jewish and Slovakian insurgents who fought against Hitler.

Off the Cuff

Space officials anticipate inviting European astronauts to join Americans on space flights during the 1970s. The Committee for Humane Legislation has honored America's hunters with the "Two Filbert Trophy" for killing bear, elk and mountain lions. A filbert is "a small, round shriveled nut." There are small signs, at least, that the palatial Kennedy Center is becoming more attuned to the tastes of the common people. In the concert hall's third balcony, an usher the other day issued up-to-the-minute reports on the latest Washington Redskins football game.

Calming All Fronts

Peking to be calm the Eastern Front. Then Moscow to be calm the Western Front. That is President Nixon's dual plan of politico-diplomatic strategy for the next six months before he launches the campaign to reap the fruits of his amazing efforts.

The President described the trip to Moscow as "independent" of his visit to Peking, but visits to the two contending sources of the Communist world by the chief of state of the leading nation of the free world cannot be separate. The Sino-Soviet rivalry no doubt has heightened the interest of each of these powers in improving relations with the United States.

The two trips also are linked in an even more practical way. They should help persuade the North Vietnamese that their major allies will not sacrifice their own national interests to the Indochina war effort, thus reducing their diplomatic and political significance of their conflict.

Mr. Nixon has said there are wide differences with the People's Republic of China, some of which he hopes to negotiate. A peaceful atmosphere in the Far East is paramount for the two greatest nations of the Pacific, but not a peace which produces more tensions.

With Moscow, the President has been even longer attaining the climate for a summit meeting that could be meaningful. He cited satisfactory progress on bilateral negotiations at lower levels as some evidence that the time has come for the summit in Moscow. These include progress on arms limitation, the treaty agreement with the Soviet Union barring nuclear weapons from seabeds along continental shelves, a treaty curbing use of biological weapons and an agreement designed to reduce the risk of accidental war.

There was also the agreement among the Four Powers regarding travel and communications between East and West Berlin, and the feeling of both sides that they have reached a nuclear stalemate and negotiations now provided the only sure route the solution of differences.

Because both these visits have been carefully prepared for, there is a chance that something significant can and may come out of them. That is the most—and the best—that can be said at this time. And whether the USSR would ever keep to any agreement made in a very chancy proposition. We hope there will be no secret deals.

Prisoners' Rights

Pennsylvania state prisons are the scene of a new era in prisoner treatment. They have adopted the Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners—a code adopted by the United Nations in 1955 and considered again by their 1970 Kyoto, Japan, conference on the Prevention of Crime and Treatment of Criminal Offenders.

The rules have been posted on the bulletin boards of Pennsylvania state prisons, and State Attorney General J. Shane Creamer intends that they shall be carried out, as does the Commissioner of Correction, Allyn Sielaff. The code assures prisoners the right to be treated with dignity as human beings while imprisoned; and deals with such things as hygiene, clothing, bedding, food, exercise, medical help, access to library, information to and complaints by prisoners, religious freedom, prisoners' property, education, recreation, notices of death, illness, transfers.

The finest precept of the new rules is that pertaining to "untried prisoners." With youth constituting such a large core of citizens "in trouble" and, if subjected to hardened criminals, lose character and adopt crime, the code is a glorious dawn. They are to be kept separate from adults and convicted prisoners, will sleep singly in separate rooms, eat food from outside, wear their own clothes if clean. They are to have no handcuffs, chains, irons, or straitjackets. If not guilty, they can return to the world as decent people, with honor, and not be forever angry with the law.

INTEGRATED EDUCATION—At his inauguration as president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner said, "We can recast the concept of a liberal education in a contemporary mold by integrating science and technology with the study of man and his culture." It is a step toward culturally integrated education.

WASHINGTON—The United Nations has a problem on its hands with respect to Red China, and it is not going to be solved right away. For while the Peking Government will be elected to membership in the United Nations and be given the seat in the Security Council which now is held by Nationalist China, this doesn't mean the expulsion of the Taiwan Government from the General Assembly.

Peking, however, probably will insist as a condition of acceptance that there be only "one China" in the organization and that the Nationalist Government be ousted altogether. This will require a period of negotiation with mainland China in an effort to convince Premier Chou En-Lai and his associates that there is a lot to be gained by letting the Nationalist Government remain in the U.N. and sit in the General Assembly.

President Nixon will have an opportunity next year to discuss the matter with the leaders of Red China. He will undoubtedly emphasize that a seat in the Security Council gives Peking a voice in world affairs which it has not had and that this is far more important than a continuing dispute over the status of Taiwan.

The vote to retain the Nationalists as members of the U.N., with a seat in the General Assembly, will be a close one. There are, however, many nations which were formerly colonies of other countries, and to expel Taiwan would raise questions about the validity of the representation of the smaller nations.

As far as the United States is concerned, it has never objected to admitting countries which have managed to win their freedom. If the Peking Government opens up its doors to more communication with the rest of the world, it will learn that the problem of former colonies has arisen in the past and that the United Nations has not felt any government was justified in asking the U.N. to deny membership to a nation which has achieved its independence.

U.S. ambassador George Bush stated the case clearly before the General Assembly on Monday. He said the course of expulsion would be an ill-advised and dangerous precedent. He declared that in its 26 years the U.N. had never expelled a member. If the Assembly were to travel down this road, he asked, who could predict which member would be next? The Ambassador added:

"Surely there is many another member in the organization which, though fully in possession of territory and governmental powers, could one day become the target of some political combination in these halls commanding a simple majority and aiming to throw it out of the U.N. solely because its right to government is disputed by others."

To oust the government of Taiwan, which is certainly a separate entity from Mainland China, could cause uneasiness throughout the world. Sooner or later, Premier Chou En-Lai will perceive the logic of the argument and drop his objections to Taiwan's membership in favor of the advantages Peking would obtain by a seat in the all-powerful Security Council of the U.N.

What should be considered by the Peking regime is that, as a member of the Security Council, it will have a veto over major proposals in world affairs. The representative of the Chinese People's Republic also will be sitting alongside the Soviet Union and the United States in dealing with projects that will have a far-reaching impact on the peace of the world.

While there are groups in the United States that are opposed to the admission of Red China to the United Nations, the administration believes that the policy it is following will in the long run prove beneficial. Certainly if mainland China accepts membership, it will come under the obligations of the charter and will be subject to widespread criticism if it becomes involved in any way in acts of aggression or in the incitement of wars in Asia or elsewhere.

President Nixon on his trip to Red China will, of course, explain why the United States feels obliged to support any country which is already a member of the United Nations. But he will point out too that America has recognized the necessity of allowing Peking to sit in the Security Council.

After talking with President Nixon, the government in Peking may conclude during the course of the next year that membership in the United Nations, even with the Nationalist China in the General Assembly, offers greater advantages than would be gained by insistence on its "one China" concept and refusal to accept the opportunity now given for a seat in the Security Council.

David Lawrence Says

JOB APPLICANT'S COMPREHENSIVE Q. AND A.

Getting a job is becoming a job. At one time, beginners were looked over, asked a few questions, and told: "Don't call us. We'll call you." That was it. You measured up or you shipped out. Today, the relationship between employer and employee is based on mutual suspicion and distrust.

The worker no longer relates his future to the welfare of the company. His loyalty is to himself. Management, on the other hand, regards itself as the proprietor of the employee as well as the business. Workers are an assortment of able-bodied numbers assigned to tasks.

Avarice, even greed, are forgivable on both sides, but apathy is inert sabotage. The boss who docks a worker a day's pay when the man is obviously ill alienates an entire department. The worker who knows that a piece of machinery or a truck requires maintenance and runs it into rubble wreckage is too costly to keep on any payroll.

The sneak thief, who takes "souvenirs" home, raises the cost of the company product to the consumer. Worst of all is the new type of employment office which devises insolent questions calculated to invade the privacy of the applicant so that, even if he gets the job, he starts work despising the organization.

A case in point is a 17-year-old high-school-girl neighbor. Her school was advised that girls who desired to become models could do so by joining a "club." The "club" was not a sorority; it was a device engineered by a big department store to get attractive kids to model clothing for something called peanuts.

Comes the Questionnaire. So far, this attractive child has been on call for nine hours of work, for which she was to get $15. It has not been paid. Yesterday, she received an application in the mail and studied the questions. It seems as though the jolly little club is closing, and, although the store promises no salary—nor even a junior modeling job—the questions are carefully designed to raise the hackles of hatred:

HAVE YOU EVER...
Have operated on... Been advised to have an operation... Been a patient in a sanitarium or institution... Been unable to perform usual duties because of illness or accident for more than 1 wk. during past 2 yrs.

ANSWER YES OR NO (If yes—explain):
Have you ever injured your back... Worn a back brace... Ever worn a knee brace... Ever had a hernia or rupture... Have you ever been treated with X-rays... Ever worked with radioactive materials... Ever worked in a dusty trade... Ever had fits or convulsions... Do you need glasses to read... Do you need glasses for distance... Contact lenses... Ever use a hearing aid... Ever had nerve trouble...

ALLERGIES... Asthma... Blood or sugar in urine... Cough... Fainting spells... Hay fever... Headaches... Jaundice... Joint pains... Paralysis... Rheumatic fever... Shortness of breath... Skin rashes... Stomach ulcer... Swelling of legs or ankles... Urination difficulties... Varicose veins... Venereal disease...

The above statements are true to the best of my knowledge. I understand that any misstatement of fact is grounds for release.

The young lady was so outraged that she sent the following to the big store: "Please answer the following so that we may respect each other."

"How long have you been in business? What percentage of your employees have remained with you five years or more?... Ever been bankrupt?... Have you ever been cited for abuse of the minimum wage laws?... Do you mark prices of garments up before marking them down for 'sale'?"

"Do you have a Board of Health certificate of approval for cafeterias, rest rooms, locker rooms?... Is the store fire-proof?... Are wage increases based on productivity or on seniority?... Are you opposed to unions?... What are your total assets in relation to liabilities?... What would you say is the average length of time a female may model before she must look for other employment?"

She showed it to me. I chuckled. "You won't mail it," I said. She shook her head in anger. "Yes I will," she said. "Those questions make me feel like an animal they're buying." There was a time when workers and management profited by struggling together.

The dear dead days...

Freeman Readers Write Letters to Editor

Defends Husband

Editor, The Freeman:
I can no longer stand by and ignore the unfair attacks being made upon my husband. The time has come for a few little points to be clarified. My husband is too kind, and frankly, far too busy doing his job as Superintendent of Highways to expend his energies on such things. I am not.

I read Mr. Riozzi's statement appearing in last week's local paper and am truly sorry he is "appalled" at the so-called spending of Highway funds on private roads.

Doesn't he realize the Town has ALWAYS maintained certain roads that are not officially town roads... including Burnett Road, the one on which we live. There are 19 families on our road and they all pay taxes too. The Town roads are plowed first. Roads such as ours, that the Town has always maintained, must wait their turn. We are last on the list but no one complains. Would Mr. Riozzi leave us all stranded? Emergencies do arise you know, such as fire. My husband is guilty of one thing though—he has a kind heart and is always willing to help the aged and the ill.

It is unfair and untrue to imply that my husband wastes tax dollars. He doesn't waste anything, and utilizes everything at his disposal to the maximum. The job entails end-less hours of paper work which must be handled. He has no secretarial assistance other than what I can give him and of course I do not get paid for this.

Every month he submits his list of bills for approval by the Town Board before they can be paid. This occurs at the monthly Town meeting where the public is present. The bills are read aloud and my husband is available in person to answer any questions.

Also, may I straighten out another little detail indirectly referred to in Mr. Riozzi's statement concerning our telephone. If Mr. Riozzi had taken the time to look in the phone book he would find it listed under CHARLES E. BACH, JR. We had an unlisted number before Bub took office. I was pregnant at the time and getting some weird phone calls at 1:30 and 4 o'clock in the morning while he was out plowing snow. It was extremely upsetting under the circumstances and my doctor suggested we enlist the phone. My husband took office in January. I had my baby in April and our phone was once again listed. I agree with Mr. Riozzi that availability in this job is a must. It is a full-time job. You are on call 24 hours a day and there is no time for moonlighting, or for that matter, any outside activities.

There is just one more point Mr. Riozzi made concerning individual complaints. They do occur and in order to save valuable time one must learn to separate the wheat from the chaff. Here's an example of one my husband received. A rather mature lady phoned complaining that she must send some one quickly to correct an emergency situation existing in her front yard—it was full of manure.

May I quote No. 5 from Mr. Riozzi's statement: "Individual complaints should be speedily investigated by the Superintendent of Highways. Emergency situations should be corrected as soon as possible. I wonder how he would handle that one."

Thank you.

Ecology or Nothing

Editor, The Freeman:
Tsk! Tsk! It's a shame how often editorials are so "one-tracked." Re the editorial entitled "One SST Was Missing," that appeared in the October 12 issue of The Freeman.

The U.S. didn't have an SST at the Air Show—true. The "lib" like Proxmire, Fulbright, Church, Javits and Kennedy "howled it down"—true. And the end of U.S. domination of the air may be in sight—true. But is there any logical reason to assume that those responsible for the abortion of the SST are to blame for the imminent cessation of U.S. naval and general military superiority? Or that those who took an active part in the anti-SST movement are spokesmen for the nebulous group of so-called "anti-everything" Americans who seek to curtail U.S. domestic tranquility? I think not.

Perhaps we should look beyond the obvious and seek other facts rather than become mired in the "look-out-he's-got-some-he's-better" philosophy. Perhaps there remain among us a few of those unique individuals whose qualities of foresight and perseverance alienate them from their peers. Perhaps men such as those mentioned are acting as spokesmen for (as well as members of) a different segment of our society—those dedicated not to a "better tomorrow" but simply to a tomorrow.

For those who firmly believe in "Ecology of Extinction," the priority is not national progress or international prestige, but rather continuance—or even survival—of mankind. That is why the defeat of the SST should be acclaimed rather than disparaged, as it marks the front of a growing awareness of earth as a unique and finite environment. Those who associate ecology with "anarchy" or ignore it as "liberal" and therefore "bad" are missing the whole point. Ecology in its purest sense implies conservation—not a "liberal" attitude, and not at all "bad." Perhaps then introspection should be imperative before any action is taken or attitudes formed.

Do we need SST's? A bigger this, a better that? Or do we want them? Is a change of values what we ultimately need—or is that too high a price to pay for survival?

"Survival," you say, "isn't that much too emotional and absolute a term to use?" No—not at all. Our ignorance, evasion of ecology has led us to the ultimate cu-de-sac: we must do something—now—to insure our very existence of all hopes for further perpetuation are forfeit.

We need to get back to basics—and there's nothing more basic than survival. Yet we should be cautioned—"No man is an island..." What more perfect means to the essential and elusive "brotherhood of man" than working side by side—to survive! Why not read next time of "Proxmire, Fulbright, Church, Javits, Kennedy and you."

Respectfully,

Space-Freeze

Editor: The Freeman:

I would like to comment on an article that appeared on the front page of The Freeman. The article dealt with the Ontario Central Schools. In the last paragraph it stated that the "portable and supposedly relocatable" classrooms at the Bennett School have now alleviated the crowded conditions that existed there.

As a teacher at Bennett, I find this statement to be extremely misleading. The relocatable classrooms alleviated only the intolerable conditions resulting from the long delay in the completion of these rooms. Since the opening of the four rooms, six weeks behind schedule, we have that regained the use of the All-Purpose Room for physical education classes. During the educational activities that can be conducted in the two special education classes were housed in this facility, necessitating gym suits suffer because of time children. The passing of my parents' rainy days, in the classrooms, the teacher to work with each and lately the loss of my dear child. I personally believe such husband was announced and of the remedial reading and conditions to be educationally math rooms which were the unsound and possibly hazardous temporary homes of the Child when considering safety and Study classes. The remedial fire regulations.

We have surpassed reasonable limits and there seems to be no relief for the "space-freeze" that is present in this building. More homes are being constructed in the area and new students are entering daily. We already need more classrooms. The opening of the relocatable classroom units did not in any way help to lessen the effect that the overcrowdedness will have on the educational programs operating at the Bennett School.

Sincerely,

Congratulations on your 100th Anniversary and may I say "The Freeman" has been in our home for just 50 years this year. Our family brought us kids from N. Y. to live up here in the Hudson Valley in 1921 and of course the family bought The Freeman. It has been a great solace to me in many ways. It announced my engagement, marriage—and the birth of my children. Their weddings and the arrival of my two grand-several memorials I have sent my 100th copy with my many other treasures. Keep right on going, please! Sincerely,

State Plans to Take Action On Thefts at Major Airports

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—New York State will move to check thefts and other mob activities at major airports unless Congress acts within the next couple of months.

Spokesmen for the state recently told congressmen the federal government must move immediately. If it doesn't, then New York and New Jersey will act separately.

Officials attending congressional hearings disagreed with theft figures released by airlines and could not "understand the reason for them (airlines) to play down the amount of thefts." They estimated the total was less than $1 million a year.

"However," a New York state official explained, "they have two sets of figures. One is for thefts and the other is for merchandise lost or not received."

The last time the airlines spokesmen testified before a congressional committee, they said the thefts were 66 per cent, and the "lost or unrecovered" merchandise ran 38 per cent.

"This time," he added, "they reversed the figures. What the purpose is, we can't understand."

State Sen. John H. Hughes, who heads up an anti-crime legislative commission, pointed out the reason the state preferred federal action is that in terstate commerce is involved and it would be much easier if Congress came up with some answers.

Hughes said the New York and New Jersey legislatures adopted resolutions urging congressional action more than a year and a half ago. They proposed the Waterfront Commission be given authority to establish an airport security force; that cargo truckers and employees be licensed and union officials be screened.

"I was active on the original Waterfront Commission legislation and it took only three months for Congress to act in 1953," Hughes said. "Now, they have had this police resolution on for more than a year and a half and nothing has been done. Un-thefts were estimated at $4.5 less we get action by the time million."

Patron Throws Gasoline— Two Killed, 12 Are Injured

NEW YORK (AP) — Two persons were killed and 12 others injured in an explosion and fire in a crowded Queens tavern Sunday night. Police said the blaze began when an irate customer flung a container of gasoline against the bar.

Five of the injured were reported in critical condition suffering from burns. Several of the others suffered lacerations when they broke through a plate glass window to escape the flames.

Police said a woman patron, who had been ejected earlier after she became quarrelsome, returned to the Hollis Inn about 11 p.m. with a five-gallon plastic container of gasoline which she smashed against the bar.

The lit cigarette of nearby patrons apparently ignited the fuel. The woman attempted to escape but her body was found later two feet inside the door. A second victim was found dead in the washroom.

Neither was immediately identified.

"It was dreadful," said Mrs. Melvin Mack, a neighbor and witness. "I was looking at television in the living room when I heard a loud crash. I went to the door and looked across the street. The bar was in flames."

"People were trying to get out the front door, but the flames forced most of them back," she said. "One man got out. As he ran, flames were eating at his jacket. He collapsed on the street."

Police responding to the alarm pulled out three of the injured and beat out their burning clothing with their hands.

The five persons in critical condition, all at Queens General Hospital, were identified as: Bernard Shiner, 42, and his wife, Arlene, 41, of 185-34 Dunlop St.; Dorothy Voorhees, 47, of 102-58 187th St.; and Samuel Turman, 41, of 104-23 192nd St., all of Queens; and Hardy Hyland, 50, no address given.

Tech Students Gain Week On Failure

ALFRED, N.Y. (AP) — Approximately 3,000 students at the State University's Agricultural and Technical Institute here are getting a week off because of a power failure on campus.

The two-year school suspended classes Sunday after electricity was cut off, apparently because of a failure in an underground cable.

A college spokesman said 2,800 students were told to go home. Another 200 students live off campus in this area.

A similar power failure in 1969 resulted in a week-long suspension of classes.

GUARDSWOMAN — Army Spec. 4 Ruth Holmes is sworn in as California's first female National Guardswoman by Major General Glenn Ames, commander of the state military forces, in a ceremony in Sacramento. Miss Holmes, a 21-year-old Canadian citizen, recently completed a three-year hitch in the U. S. Women's Army Corps. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Man Killed In Accident On Kaaterskill

TANNERSVILLE, N.Y. (UPI) — Bruce M. Fenton, 16, of Levittown, fell more than 200 feet to his death in Kaaterskill Creek Saturday while camping near this Greene County community.

State police said the Long Island teen-ager was among a group staying at the North Lake camp site. Troopers said he fell 230 feet from a cliff overlooking a waterfall into the shallow water of the creek. He died of a fractured skull, police reported.

A search was begun for the youth when his companions discovered he was missing about 1 a.m. His body was found 62 Haven Lane.

Man Charged Twice for DWI

TOWN OF ULSTER — A 27-year-old motorist was cited twice early Sunday morning on charges of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, according to Hurley State Police.

Thomas Mungavin of RD 3, Box 255-B, Kingston, was arrested at 3:15 a.m. by Troopers Norman Kilfoyle and J. H. Ingellis and charged with drunken driving. The man submitted to a blood test and was later taken before Town Justice Sherwood E. Davis. He pleaded innocent and was released in his own custody pending the arrest of Victor J. Komasa, 37, of Malden, Town of Saugerties, on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Trooper William J. Alfred arraigned the man before Town Justice Davis, who released Komasa in his own custody and adjourned hearing until Oct. 26.

Police reported Komasa was driving north on Simmons Drive, Town of Saugerties, at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, when the car left the pavement and hit a junk car near a service station. Beatrice L. Komasa, a passenger, received a laceration of the nose.

Area Residents Win $1,000 In Lottery

ALBANY — Three Ulster County residents have won $1,000 consolation prizes in New York State's special $2 lottery. Their names were among 500 drawn Thursday in Albany, along with the 14 Grand Tier names who remain in the running for the grand prize of $25,000 a year for life.

Local consolation winners are: Conlons and Plascels, Kingston; H. Dussol, Mt. Marion and R. & D. Kau, Kingston.

In addition, Pete and Cecil Lubruck of Highland won $300 in the state's $2 lottery. They were the only Ulster County residents among the 715 preliminary pool winners drawn Thursday.

Train Crash Kills Seven

TSU, Japan (UPI) — Two express passenger trains collided head-on in a tunnel today, killing at least seven persons and injuring 178, police reported.

The police said the dead included the motorman of the two trains, and three of the injured were seriously hurt.

Kintetsu Railway Co., a private railroad line, said the trains were carrying an estimated 600 passengers. Police said both trains were derailed and several coaches overturned.

No further details were immediately available. The collision occurred between Nagoya and Osaka, in central Japan.

Police said they had sent 200 men to the scene but they were having difficulty removing the injured from the tunnel.

Hotels and inns in the area also rushed buses and station wagons to help carry the injured passengers to hospitals.

In the last major accident on the Kintetsu line, an express train smashed into another train packed with commuters near Osaka on Nov. 12, 1966, killing a motorman and injuring about 200 passengers.

Gun Accident Injures Man

WALLKILL — While attempting to correct a malfunction of his 20-gauge shotgun in a wooded area near the Blue Chip Farm in the Town of Shawangunk on Sunday, Aldo Gori, 28, of 30th Street, the Bronx, was injured when the gun accidentally discharged.

Troopers at Highland said Gori was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh and treated for gunshot wounds of the left foot. The man reportedly had been hunting with friends in the woods in the vicinity of the Albany Post Road.

Trooper Brian D. Mitchell investigated.

Council to Aid Broadway Area

KINGSTON — The Common Council has committed itself to passage of legislation to aid the Central Broadway area. Mrs. Florence S. Ludlow (D-Fourth Ward), told The Freeman today.

Mrs. Ludlow chairs the special Council committee on Central Broadway. The committee met Friday night, she said, and signed a committee report approving Mayor Francis R. Koenig's proposals to give him authority to negotiate for the purchase of parking lots in the area and to apply to the state for planning funds. Committee members include Mrs. Ludlow, John L. Machione (R-Second Ward), Michael S. Perry (D-Seventh Ward), Edward M. Norton (D-11th Ward) and Titus B. Sims (R-13th Ward). All five members of the committee signed the committee report, insuring that it will reach the Council floor at the November meeting for a vote. Mrs. Ludlow says she has the necessary commitments (seven votes are needed) for passage.

Thus a special meeting of the Common Council, has been ruled out. "I'm very happy that things have worked out," Mrs. Ludlow said today. "We have made a definitive commitment to the Central Broadway Businessmen and I'm positive that Mayor Koenig's legislation will pass at the November meeting of the Council."

Meanwhile, Edward Arace, president of the Central Broadway Businessmen's Association, announced that the businessmen will meet in a special session tomorrow night at 8 p.m. at Scholar's, 1 Van Buren Street. Alderman Perry will be the guest speaker.

Max F. Brudniak
Max F. Brudniak, 52, of 11 Ontario Court, Shokan, died suddenly Saturday evening at Newburgh. Born February 25, 1919 in Greenwich, Conn., he was a son of the late Frank and Margaret Kazyra Brudniak. TODAY'S THOUGHT
By JIM GILPATRIC

Should not these questions be thought about on Veteran's Day? . . . Is it not a good day to remember war brings a legacy of bitter memories? . . . Should we not remind ourselves how a world can go mad; show ugly mob-madness at its worst? . . . Is not Veteran's Day a good day to hope and pray that memories of madness be combined with a realization that war gratifies the very worst instincts of man? . . . Is it not a good day to realize WAR IS HELL — anywhere on earth? . . . Is it not a good day to realize there has NEVER been — nor can there ever be — a feast of victory? . . . That war can only bring on a feast of destruction, disaster and death? . . . Above all, is it not a good day to prayerfully plead for God's help for all youth everywhere to give their energies — instead of their lives — to build a better future for themselves, their children and their children's children? . . . Will you join us — and others — in such prayer?

Amityville Dentist Heads NAACP State Conference

PLAINVIEW, N. Y. (UPI)—Dr. Eugene Reed, a 48-year-old dentist from Amityville, has been elected president of the state conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Reed, who was one of the leading proponents of a reform faction of the NAACP known as the "Young Turks" during the early 1960s, was elected to his new post at the conference's 35th annual convention here Sunday.

In a telephone interview today, Reed said as leader of the conference he would try to implement programs to "stem the tide of conservative thought in the state."

Reed, whose mother founded the first NAACP branch in Glen Cove in 1931, said the fight to "turn back" conservatism would be conducted by a "strong political action program."

Reed described the "Young Turks" as a group "of young leaders in the organization, who in the years 1963-64 found there was too much emphasis being given to the Southern problem. We just thought more attention should have been offered to the problems of race in northern urban areas."

Reed said the official organization of the group called the "Young Turks" had become dormant and he would not comment on whether he expected a revival of the faction.

As president of the conference, which has 73 chapters across the state, Reed said he expects to make the association a "model for all the other conferences around the country."

He succeeds Donald R. Lee of Buffalo, who did not seek reelection after holding the post since 1965.

In addition to carrying on strong political activities, he said the group would seek to increase the organization's membership to at least 100,000.

Reed also said he would begin an intensive fund raising

Holdup Suspect, Sniper Killed In Gun Battles

NEW YORK (AP) — An alleged holdup man and an 18-year-old sniper who threatened three hostages have been killed in separate fierce gun battles with police.

Eighteen shots were fired at the Charles and Charles Record Store early Sunday as police interrupted an attempted armed robbery by four men and two women.

While his partner followed a suspect into the loft of the record store, Patrolman Arthur Aiello exchanged fire with a man identified as Joseph Pointer, about 35, of 21-40 Oak St., Philadelphia. Pointer, who had been holding two employees at gunpoint according to police, died later of an abdominal wound at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital.

Aiello's partner, Brendan Mullarkey was shot under the right arm as he descended stairs from the loft. He and a second alleged holdup man, Richard Carter, 32, of Brooklyn, also wounded, were taken to the hospital in good condition.

A third man, Russell Meade, 35, of Philadelphia was also apprehended.

The others, including two women, escaped, police said.

In the later gun fight, a youth identified as Paul Brown of Manhattan died in a barrage of 23 shots, police said, when he opened fire on police as he emerged from a tenement building where he had been holding three hostages.

While ensconced in the top-floor apartment he took several shots at police on the street, they said. No one else was injured.

One of the hostages said Brown told them his police application had been rejected and quoted him as saying he "wanted to kill a cop."

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices moved narrowly lower at the opening today on the New York Stock Exchange. Turnover was moderate.

Shortly after the opening the Dow Jones industrial average had slipped 0.37 to 852.00. With 373 issues traded, declines topped advances, 231 to 170.

In the steel, U.S. Steel at 28 1/4, Republic at 22, Bethlehem at 24 1/4 and Armco at 17 1/2 lost 1/4 apiece.

Autos were fractionally lower. General Motors and Ford each dipped 1/4, the former opening at 79 1/2, the latter at 68 1/4. Chrysler gave up 1/4 to 28 1/4.

Monsanto led the chemicals lower, giving up 1 1/4 to 45 1/4. DuPont slipped 1/4 to 150 1/4. Dow 3/4 to 67 1/4.

Scientists Study New Quake Measures

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists are studying the possibility of lubricating geological fractures with water to reduce big earthquakes to more frequent, but much smaller, tremors.

A comprehensive, controlled test of such a possibility is being undertaken at the Santa Fe Springs oil field near Los Angeles, the California Institute of Technology said Sunday.

The major and most destructive cause of California earthquakes is the San Andreas Fault, a large geological fracture running from north of San Francisco to the Gulf of California in Mexico.

The land west of the fault is moving northward at about two inches a year, and strain builds up along the fault where friction holds the two masses together despite the mountain pressure. Eventually, the build up strain is released in a sharp jolt as the western side of the fault snaps northward, causing earthquakes that have plagued California cities.

Cal Tech scientists conducting the experiment believe it will "be possible to lubricate the San Andreas at strategic points so that many small, hardly detectable quakes could replace the big ones that occur two to three times a century."

If such a plan can be proved practical, water would be pumped into the fault to lubricate the opposing faces, allowing them to slip jerkily but gradually across each other instead of growing taut with pressure and jarring loose with destructive force.

"We think that while this might be costly, it is likely to be successful and could very well save not only money but lives," said Charles B. Archambeau, professor of geophysics and head of the experiment team.

Board Members Elected For Red Hook Rec Park

RED HOOK chance is necessary because the pool operated at a $12,000 deficit for 1970 and 1971. Presently the rate is $80.

The proposal would also eliminate the three year family plan that was established in 1969. The multi-year plan caused bookkeeping and control difficulties, besides in light of increased rates it no longer appeared practical for families to finance a long range plan. Under the new scheme charter subscribers would receive a 10 percent discount. In comparing the Rec Park pool with similar facilities in other Hudson Valley communities, the rates vary between $45 and $200.

In his opening remarks, Lancto said, "The significant increase in this year's attendance means the Park is meeting its foremost objective, providing a wholesome recreational facility for the benefit of the community. I have every confidence the Park will continue to endure because it has become an accepted good neighbor to the people in the Red Hook School District."

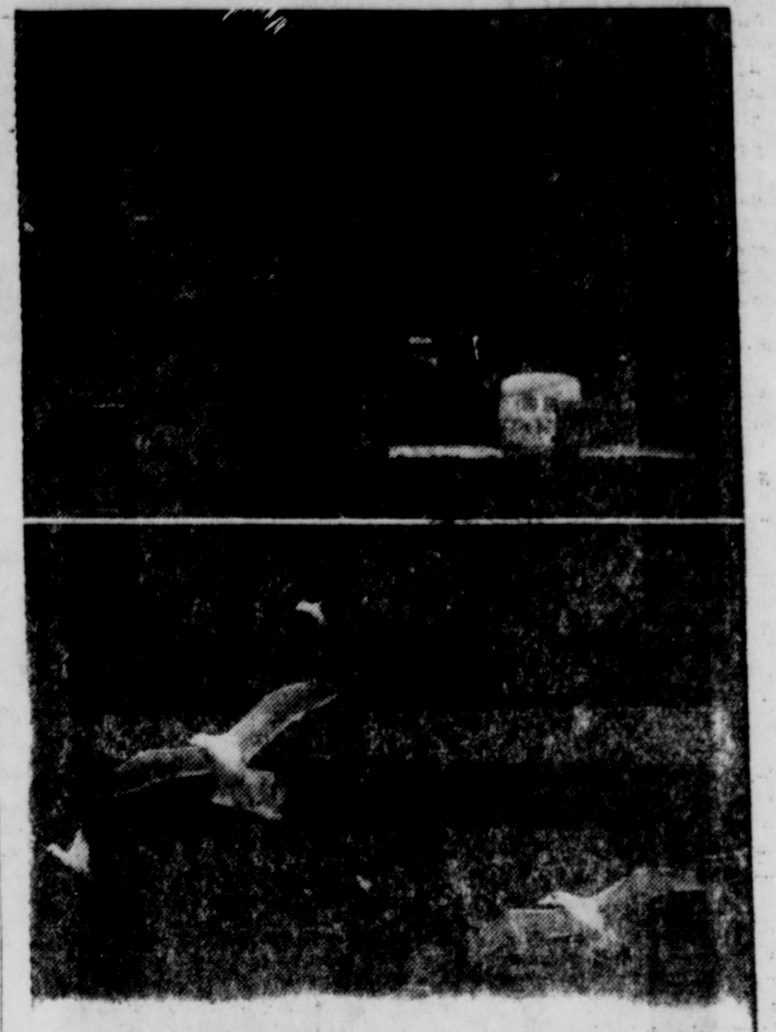

Daniel R. Hoch, vice-president operations, reviewed the 1971 achievement and outlined plans for next year. The Winter Swim Program at Holy Cross Campus has 75 participants, 44 on Monday's White Team and 31 on Thursday's Red Team.

Reid covered the financial condition of the organization, which continues to reflect an operating loss that must be corrected in 1972. This year expenses amounted to $30,375 with income at $18,979. The park treasury has $28,728, with an additional $2,185 in securities.

Recreation Park Board

New directors of the Recreational Park of Red Hook assume posts at fifth annual meeting of the organization. Elected were (standing) Evans Demson, Dorothy Walsh and Lawrence Mosher. Re-elected were (seated) G. Carl Pack and Theodore Kudgy.

His Honor Accepts Plaque, Presents Proclamation

Two events were highlighted recently at City Hall by Mayor Francis R. Koenig. In the photo at left, Koenig joins with Joseph Cornelske (R) in admiring a plaque sent to the City by the Northeast Hot Rod Association expressing its appreciation to the citizens of Kingston for their hospitality during the Association's recent Street Rod Weekend held here. Cornelske was chairman of the event that attracted street rodders from throughout the Northeast and Midwest. In the photo at right, Koenig presents a proclamation to Navy Recruiter and Machinist Mate First Class Kenneth Thorpe proclaiming Oct. 27 to be Navy Day in the City of Kingston. ### What Do Many Doctors Use When They Suffer Pain Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues?

Exclusive Formula Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief In Many Cases from Such Pain. Also Helps Shrink Swelling of Such Tissues Due to Infection.

In a survey, doctors were asked what they use to relieve such painful symptoms. Many of the doctors reporting said they either use Preparation H themselves or in their office practice. Preparation H gives prompt, temporary relief for hours in many cases from pain, itching in hemorrhoidal tissues. And it actually helps shrink painful swelling of such tissues when infected and inflamed. Just see if doctor-tested Preparation H doesn't help you. Ointment or suppositories.

Some men live in the cages of routine. Others fly in the open skies of the spirit. Puzzled by the contrasts we see in our lives, we ask the question "Why?" Why poverty in a land of plenty? Why loneliness in a world that would join hands? Why war when the impulse of the heart is to love? The aching chasm between the real and the ideal everywhere provokes the question...

WHY?

In a world looking for answers maybe God is the place to start. God is hope. God is now.

Miss Linda Lee Pahlck Weds John F. Mackey

MRS. JOHN F. MACKAY
(Glenndale Studio)

First Methodist Church, Highland, was the setting of the wedding of Miss Linda Lee Pahlck, Vineyard Avenue, Highland, and John Floyd Mackey, Merritt Avenue, Highland, on Sunday, Oct. 10 at 5:30 p.m. The Rev. Godburn officiated at the double ring, candlelight service.

Thomas Phalen, soloist, and "For All We Know."

The former Miss Pahlck is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond Herbrechter of Highland and Frank Pahlck of Fishkill. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mackey of Highland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Venice lace accented her white satin gown and her fingertip veil was held by a Venice lace headpiece. Mrs. Mackey carried a nosegay of white gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Sharon Ciacci of Clintondale served as matron of honor for her sister. Attendants were Cathy Pahlck, sister of the bride, Matilda Franciamore, Donna Herbrechter and Johan Mecelli. They were attired in turquoise and brown satin gowns and each carried a large turquoise pompon.

Miss Carol Weber served as flower girl in a gown similar in styling to those of the other attendants. She carried a nosegay of turquoise chrysanthemums.

Peter Risenberg of Highland was best man. Leonard Ciacio, Joseph DeForno, Lawrence DiPrima and John Schoonmaker were ushers. Todd DiPrima, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ringbearer.

A reception for 140 guests was held at Meadowbrook Lodge, Newburgh.

The bride selected a navy print dress and navy accessories for her traveling ensemble to Jamaica, British West Indies.

Mrs. Mackey is a graduate of Highland High School and Dutchess Community College. She is employed as a dental assistant by Dr. Paul Ratner of Poughkeepsie.

Her husband is also a graduate of Highland High School and Dutchess Community College. He served two years with the U.S. Army and is employed by New York Telephone Company.

The couple will reside in Highland.

Evory-Schwarz Wedding Announced Here Recently

Miss Irene C. Evory, Boston, Mass., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Evory, Bloomington, became the bride of Jon Schwarz, Boston, Mass. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Schwarz, Boston, Mass.

The Rev. Richard E. Lake, pastor of United Reformed Church, Bloomington, officiated at the garden wedding ceremony which took place on Saturday, Oct. 16 at 1 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length embroidered ivory linen gown, which was designed by the bride. She carried one white rose.

The couple was attended by Mrs. Ralph B. Ostrander Jr.,

Scotia, and Seaman Jean Charles Evory, Patuxent River Naval Air Training Station, Maryland, sister and brother of the bride, respectively.

A wedding celebration was held at Ligouri's Restaurant,

Rosendale, for the immediate family.

The bride was graduated from Fashion Institute of Technology, New York City and is employed as an executive secretary by Signet Better Homes, Cambridge, Mass. Her husband is a free lance photographer. He was educated in the Boston area schools. Some of his current work is featured in last week's edition of Life Magazine.

After a wedding trip to Northern New England, Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz will make their home at Boston, Mass.

Helen Bowen Weds Charles L. Parker Sr.

Miss Helen V. Bowen of Kingston and Charles L. Parker Sr. of Princeton, N.J. were united in marriage Sunday, Oct. 10, at Fair Street Reformed Church in Kingston. The Rev. Randall B. Bosch officiated.

The bride wore a cranberry red afternoon dress and carried a white Bible accented with white orchids, lace and streamers.

Mrs. Donald Sweeney of Codwise Street, Kingston, was matron of honor. She wore a pink afternoon dress and carried an old fashioned nosegay of white chrysanthemums and pink roses.

Charles L. Parker Jr. of Princeton, N.J., served as best man for his father.

Mrs. Perc Krom, soloist, sang "How Great Thou Art." Robert D. Clum of Elnora and Hasbrouck G. Dougherty of Kingston, ushered.

Hymns were played preceding the ceremony and for the processional recessional by the church organist, Mrs. Gloria Jean Clark.

A reception for 50 guests was held in the Fair Street Reformed Church parlor.

Mrs. Parker is employed as secretary in the law office of John B. Sterley and her husband is a landscape consultant.

Van Kleeck Reunion Planned in Kingston This Month

Freeman and Reeta VanKleeck of 73 Tanner Street, New Smyrna Beach, Fla., formerly of this city, will attend the Van Kleeck family reunion in Kingston. They arrived in New York City on October 24 and plan to spend a few days with their niece, Miss Leona M. Meade of Flushing, L.I. While in Kingston they will stay with Mr. VanKleeck's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of 140 Hurley Avenue.

The couple presented with airline tickets for this trip at their 50th wedding anniversary reception which was held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Frank and Wanda Messerly of Daytona Beach, Fla., on August 29. The trip is a gift from their family to be used to attend the reunion this month.

The VanKleecks resided at 170 Fairview Avenue, Kingston, for many years. They moved to Holly Hill, Fla. in January, 1946. While in Kingston, Mrs. VanKleeck was associated with Cities Service Company and later with Needles Express Company. Since moving south, he has been employed by Florida liquor stores. In 1950, the couple moved to New Smyrna Beach, where Mr. VanKleeck is now manager of two liquor stores.

The couple has three children: Mrs. Frank (Wanda) Messerly of Daytona Beach; Clyde who is married and residing in New Smyrna Beach; and Glenn who is serving in the U.S. Army and stationed in Germany. Glenn also attended the anniversary gala in August. Mr. and Mrs. VanKleeck have seven grandchildren. They are members of the Highlands Presbyterian Church of Daytona Beach.

Convention Scheduled for State Association of Teachers of Mentally Handicapped

The date of the fifth annual convention of the New York State Association of Teachers of Mentally Handicapped, Inc. is approaching and all signs point to a tremendous program of activities extending from October 28 through 31 at The Concord, One of the Highlights of the program will be a panel of Guidance Personnel and Special Education Teachers discussing Guidance and Counseling Services for the mentally retarded. Several area teachers will be attending and participating in various demonstrations and symposiums at the convention. Mrs. Ann Bergin, art teacher at Mt. Marion School in Saugerties, will give a demonstration on the use of junk art. Robert Moore from Edson School in Kingston will demonstrate using the Orff method of music with the mentally handicapped. Miss Peg Sleight, special education teacher at Emma Wygant School and Joseph Defino, physical education teacher from Kingston, will give a ballet and physical education demonstration with the aid of the children from Emma Wygant School. Mrs. Ezella Marable, special education teacher from George Washington School, and Mrs. Laura Chasin from Rondout Valley High School, will participate on a panel discussion of guidance needs for the special class child. Mrs. Chasin has also been nominated for first vice president of the State Association. Others attending the conference include Mrs. Mabelle Mix, Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, Mrs. Alberta Parker, Mrs. Loretta Beaumont, Mrs. Dorothy Henry, Mrs. Mary Kent, Ken Hyatt, Miss Helen Donovan, Mrs. Rosemary Barnes, Mrs. Pat Tienken, Mrs. Policano and Justine Ortlieb. Special Education teachers and all others interested in the mentally handicapped are urged to make reservations at The Concord as soon as possible so that desired accommodations will be assured.

Special honors will be paid to two men who have been instrumental in bettering the lives of the mentally handicapped. At the Convention the Association will honor Charles Becker, former Chief of the Bureau for the mentally handicapped children in Albany, for his many years of devoted service to the promotion of education for the mentally handicapped. Another award will be given to Zehrab Melkonian of the administrative staff of The Queensbury Hotel in Glens Falls, for his hiring of the mentally handicapped from State Schools, training them and giving them a chance to become self-sustaining, contributing members of society.

ANNUAL DONATION DAY and tea at the Home for the Aged, 80 Washington Avenue, Kingston, is planned for Thursday, Oct. 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A variety of decorations, home baked foods, flowers and plants will be featured and tea will be served from 2 to 4 p.m. Proceeds from the sales will benefit the Good Cheer Funds which provides special comforts for the residents. Pictured above by a portrait of Mrs. C. VanDeusen Dewey which was painted by an artist of the early Hudson River School are three residents (l-r) Mrs. Emma Anderson, Mrs. Sadie Marlatt and Mrs. Helen Tremper. This portrait was restored with monies received from the annual Donor Day. Mrs. Allen Dumas is chairman. The public is invited to attend. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Distaff Digest

Rummage Sale

Sisterhood Ahavath Israel will hold a rummage sale at 100 Lucas Avenue on November 1, 2, 3. The sale will start Monday evening at 6 p.m. and will continue until 9 p.m. On Tuesday the hours will be from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. The sale will continue Wednesday until noon.

The Port Ewen Parent Teacher Organization will meet Wednesday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. There will be a short meeting followed by "Visit the Classroom" for grades kindergarten through three.

"Visit the Classroom" for grades four through six will be held at a future date to be announced.

Singing Program

Colonial City Chapter of Sweet Adelines will attempt to take area residents back into the golden days of yesteryear.

On Friday, Oct. 29, they will arrive at Kingston Plaza at 8 p.m. by way of a horse-drawn hay wagon and will entertain with a varied singing program of oldtime barbershop harmony.

The Chorus is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Bondar. Rehearsals are held every Tuesday at 8 p.m. at St. James United Methodist Church. Anyone interested in singing and all round good fellowship is invited.

Open House

The second in a series of three Open Houses will be held at the Lake Katrine school on Thursday, Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m. Parents should go directly to classrooms where teachers will give a presentation of the year's program. Refreshments will be served.

The final Open House for fifth and sixth grades is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 11.

COAST GUARD CHOIR — To most people there is something stirring and majestic about the sound of a chorus of male voices. When the chorus is resplendent in military uniforms there is often an added pride and thrill in the performance. Such is the special treat available to Kingstonians when "The Idlers," a 21 man choir from the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., presents a concert on Wednesday, Oct. 27 at 8:15 p.m. at Fair Street Reformed Church. The choir is under the direction of Donald L. Janse. Proceeds from the concert will help with the restoration of the fine old organ, formerly at Rondout Presbyterian Church on Wurts Street, which will ultimately be installed in the gallery of Fair Street as an antiphonal instrument. Mrs. S. James Matthews is chairman of the concert committee which includes Mrs. William E. Ryalence, Mrs. F. H. Ransom, Mrs. John A. McCullough, Peter Hoffman, Charles Talleur, Percy W. Gazlay II and John Woltz. Tickets are available from any of the committee, from choir members of Fair Street Reformed Church, or at Abrams Music Store. (Velasquez photo).

Introducing: Margaret Dana, Marian Christy

With the advent of the Freeman Sunday Edition, the Woman's Department is including two new columnists. They are Margaret Dana, professional consultant on the changing attitudes and problems of consumers; and Marian Christy, award winning fashion writer who says, "I never look on fashion as just clothes — fashion is people, things and places."

First, Margaret Dana. For many years through unique and continuous research at the "grass roots," this interesting lady has studied people of every income and education level, in a variety of national cross-sections, to learn what and how they think about products and services they buy. She has used many different mechanisms to set up a "two-way communication" between those who make, sell, regulate products and those who buy and use them. She has been a teacher in a Southern rural mountain school, and in a fashionable Philadelphia private school; she has owned and operated several kinds of shops; she has owned and managed restaurants; she has written and taught advertising; written more than 100 articles for national magazines, a book on consumer buying, three different types of newspaper columns now syndicated to some 105 newspapers.

Margaret Dana's education and preparation for this career was novel. Through her mother, formerly a psychology teacher, she began helping with field research in psychology by the time she was in her teens. She took numerous college courses simultaneously with her high school work. Under a variety of special teachers she also studied advanced courses in everything from Greek to calculus. At Oberlin College her special study was experimental psychology under the famous psychologist, the late Professor William Dashiell.

Mrs. Dana maintains liaison with consumer groups and industry in many countries, and has advised French groups, the London Board of Trade, the British Consumer Council, among others. She maintains a unique index of subjects built on the thousands of letters received monthly from consumers, and the research sources necessary to find reliable answers to them. She is frequently called upon to testify in the consumer interest by the Federal Trade Commission, Food and Drug Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, and Congressional Committees. She conducts as many college and industry seminars as her heavy schedule allows — ranging from Michigan State U., Framingham State College, University of Maryland, to Philadelphia Community College and many adult study groups.

Margaret Dana is a member of the American National Standards Institute's Consumer Council, Board of Directors, and several committees. She is also a member of Underwriters' Laboratories Board of Trustees; a member of the National Advisory Committee for the Flammable Fabrics Act, the National Fire Protection Association, AATCC, and other sources of information for consumers. She has received many awards and citations for her work in better consumer-industry relations.

Marian Christy is an energetic and beautiful woman who has won more awards than any other fashion writer in the business. She is often mistaken for Jackie Onassis. A native of Boston, she was graduated from Boston University's School of Journalism and soon after became a fashion feature writer for Women's Wear Daily. In 1965 she was named fashion editor of the Boston Globe and in February, 1969, she started her AFTER A FASHION column for United Feature Syndicate.

Marian generally focuses on people behind fashion rather than on fashion itself. "Who cares which designer moved a button here or a pleat there?" she says. "People would rather read personality pieces about Merle Oberon, Cary Grant, Dina Merrill, David Frost, Mrs. Spiro Agnew or Barry Goldwater Jr."

She adds: "Fashion and change are synonymous. I never look on fashion as just clothes. Fashion is people, things and places." Her recent interviews have included those with Cecil Beaton, actress Peggy Cass, fur designer Jacques Kaplan, Adele Simpson and Hardy Amies, who designs for Queen Elizabeth II. In January and July, Marian hops between Rome, Madrid and Paris, covering the European fashion circuit. The rest of the time she usually splits between New York and Boston.

Often she will go into an interview "cold," without doing any research on the person.

Marian Christy has won a total of 25 national and international fashion writing awards — a record number — in the short space of five years. In December, 1970, she won the Penney-University of Missouri Award for the third time since 1965. This is the Oscar of fashion journalism. No other writer has won as often as Marian Christy.

Miss Christy was the first to win the Fashion Reporter's Award of New York given by the New York Couture Business Council for best coverage of the New York fashion scene by an out-of-town writer. She also holds an Ente Italiano Della Moda International Award — the only American journalist honored by Rome designers. The National Footwear Institute has cited her nine times — one of them its highest Golden Slipper Award. She also has merited nine awards from the Men's Fashion Association — one of them its LULU, its highest honor.

Miss Christy also won the Woman of Achievement Award given by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Boston.

HAIRDO FOR TEENS

A professional haircut by a good hair stylist once in a while is a good investment for you. Miss Teen. The trouble with a do-it-yourself attempt is that you cannot get all parts of the head. A young face looks best with little lipstick, and a simple, well-brushed hairdo. Make a fetish of reaching for the hair brush and using it with the intent of making your hair an outstanding beauty asset. Regardless of your age, your hair can be your outstanding beauty asset. Let us style it for you according to your own personal preference. Elaborate or casual styles can be yours. Carousell Coiffures, 702-C Broadway, Kingston, 331-9330.

Temple Supper Wednesday

Plans are being completed for the annual roast beef supper sponsored by the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel on Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Temple Emanuel, 243 Albany Avenue. The much awaited event is held each year just prior to Election Day so that many of the candidates in the area have a chance to meet the people of the area on a personal level.

Heading the committee this year is Mrs. Irving Goldberg who is being assisted by the Mmes.: Ray Riffenburg, Stanley Allen, Jon Oseas and Fred Shaymow. Serving as advisors and coordinators are Mrs. Alfred Ronder and Mrs. Sidney Wolff. Reservations for the 5:30 seating may be made by contacting Mrs. Albert Spiegel or Mrs. Morton Cohen. Those who do not make reservations will be seated in the order of their arrival.

The dinner features home cooking by the members and friends of Sisterhood. The menu consists of juice, a chopped liver entree, roast beef, potatoes and vegetables.

Babysitter's Mom Has Wrong Attitude

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune - N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Last night I left my 15-month-old baby in the care of my regular babysitter from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. (The sitter is 16.)

My husband works the third shift, and he came home unexpectedly about 8 p.m. and went to bed.

When I got home at 9 p.m., my baby was gone and so was the babysitter. I immediately called the sitter's mother who told me that she had come and gotten her daughter and taken my baby home with her because she (the sitter's mother) didn't want her daughter sitting while my husband was home!

The mother said she had nothing against my husband personally, but she had to look out for her daughter's welfare. When my husband heard this he just about hit the ceiling, and of course I was hurt. Is there something wrong with our attitude, Abby? Or is there something wrong with hers?

WIFE AND MOTHER

DEAR WIFE: Hers.

DEAR ABBY: My husband had one ear pierced when he was in the Army, and he always wears a gold earring in it. He knows I don't like it, but he likes it and continues to wear it anyway.

I have tried nagging him about it, and also ignoring it, and then I just gave up. The only thing I ask of him is to please not wear it when he comes around my place of work. He has paid no attention to my request and when he shows up where I work with that earring on, everyone snickers and makes remarks.

Now I have decided to do something that will embarrass him as much as he is embarrassing me without embarrassing myself. Have you any suggestions? Thanks.

HATES EARRINGS ON MEN

DEAR HATES: That's a poor solution. It will boomerang. If you embarrass him in retaliation, he will feel justified in continuing to embarrass you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman with a three-month-old baby and my problem is that I sleep too much. I get anywhere from 12 to 14 hours of sleep a day.

The breakfast, sponsored by Ulster Kiwanis Club, will be a benefit for the Town of Ulster Library. It will be held Sunday, Oct. 31, with servings from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. at Ulster Hose Company Firehouse, Ulster Avenue Mall. Tickets for the breakfast are available at the library or may be purchased at the door. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Book Gives Answers To Cancer Questions

KINGSTON "It's amazing in these modern times that people can believe myths about something as serious as cancer—for example, that you can 'catch' cancer from someone else. It just isn't true, of course."

This comment came from Mrs. Ashton W. Hart, public education chairman of Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society, while announcing the availability of an important new ACS publication, Answering Your Questions About Cancer.

"Knowledge of the true story of cancer, how some forms can be prevented, its treatment, and what to do if cancer strikes, is very important to everyone, especially since more than 52 million Americans now living may get cancer," Mrs. Hart added.

Mrs. Hart stressed that the booklet, consisting of 93 questions and answers is "easy to understand". Among the major subjects in the booklet are Diagnosis and Treatment of Cancer, ACS Service and Rehabilitation Programs, as well as information on the number of Americans cured of the disease, and how a person can best help protect himself against cancer.

"One of three patients is being saved from cancer—but it could be one of two, with just the knowledge and skill we already have—if everyone had a regular health checkup including cancer tests. We of the American Cancer Society are determined to get this message to every American and 'Answering Your Questions About Cancer' is a major weapon," Mrs. Hart added.

"There are special sections also on such things as quackery, and what to do if you should spot one of the warning signals of cancer. The answer to that, of course, is to see your physician right away."

Mrs. Hart said that "there are many other important ACS publications available to the public. They cover a wide range of subjects, including the harmful effects of cigarette smoking, and some helpful hints about how to kick the habit."

And, in conclusion, she added: "If anyone has any questions about cancer, please call the Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society. Remember—We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime."

Stock Race To Petty

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (UPI)—Richard Petty reigns supreme over the North Carolina Motor Speedway, having won his fifth race in four years on the one-mile oval.

Petty won Sunday's American 500 by almost a full lap in a controversial victory over teammate Buddy Baker, taking $17,620 in first-prize money. Baker, who drives a Petty Enterprises Dodge, apparently thought he had won the race until he saw the results on the scoreboard.

At first irate, Baker quickly cooled off. His early contention was that Petty had passed him as the racers slowed under a caution flag. After showering, Baker told newsmen, "I slowed down, I thought the caution was out."

"But it must not have been. He must have thought it was behind him."

NASCAR officials, agreeing with Petty ruled that the yellow flag was waved after the electric-blue Plymouth passed it.

"I passed him before I got the flag," an exhausted Petty maintained. "I just got by him. The boys right behind us got it."

The disputed sixth caution flag between laps 233 and 237 was not Baker's only problem. The radiator in his Dodge ran hot for much of the last portion of the race.

His pit crew held up a sign reading, "don't cook it." Baker held his car back, he said, "trying not to boil over."

In the first turn on the 393rd lap, Baker bumped into the back of the Plymouth driven by Pete Hamilton, of Dedham, Mass., who finished fourth.

"I thought it would bust the radiator, but it didn't," Baker said, adding that the minor collision may have worsened his overheating problems.

Wrecks abounded at the race. When Coe Coe Marlin's Chevrolet blew its engine near the third turn in the 83rd lap, oil spilled on the track, causing seven cars to spin out.

Pole-sitter Charlie Glotzbach, who led for a total of 77 laps, wrecked his Chevrolet Monte Carlo after his spin-out, and was forced to drop out of the race. His crew worked for five minutes trying to whip the battered white car back into shape, but the damage was too severe for him to continue.

David Pearson also was knocked out of contention in the spinning when his Plymouth smashed into the wall.

A. J. Foyt, riding the crest of a U.S. auto club race win Saturday, blew a tire and slammed into the grandstand wall on the front stretch, knocking his Chevrolet out of the race in lap 146.

Mercury driver Donnie Allison was the first big name driver to drop out of the race when he pulled behind the wall after 65 laps because of an overheating problem.

Siffert Killed

BRANDS HATCH, England (UPI)—A race held to celebrate Jackie Stewart's world driving championship resulted in tragedy Sunday when Swiss driver Jo Siffert was killed.

Ironically, Sunday's race was staged only because drivers felt that the Mexican Grand Prix, which should have been held over the weekend, was too dangerous in view of last year's event at Mexico City where spectators strayed too close to the track during the running of the race.

Just before Siffert's BRM served off the track, he appeared to be struggling with the gear lever, witnesses said.

The auto collided with a bank of Hawthorne's Bend, killing the 35-year-old driver. The long right-hand bend is just after the fastest part of the 2.65 miles brand hatch circuit.

The 40-lap race to celebrate Stewart's world championship victory was halted. It had just gone into its 15th lap. No other car was involved in the accident. Firemen in asbestos suits were unable to rescue Siffert.

"It was all over in seconds," said former world champion driver John Surtees who was following Siffert.

"We were approaching Hawthorne's Bend doing about 160 miles per hour just before the dip and before the braking point when the back end of Siffert's car seemed to lock up."

"His car shot to the left, hit a bank and began to break up as it bounced back on to the track turning over and went on skidding along the road and burst into flames. Jo never had a chance."

Billy Casper's Winning Smile

Casper Regains His Old Touch

NAPA, Calif. (UPI) — Billy made the big difference. Casper feels today as if a big burden has been lifted from his shoulders.

Casper, a religious man who probably handles adversity because I usually don't hit better than most people, took them that well.

Casper said when it was all over Sunday afternoon. "I hit so many good, long iron shots that I began to scare me."

The victory was worth $30,000 and pushed Billy's 1971 earnings to $107,072. It marked the sixth consecutive year he has topped the $100,000 plateau in earnings and the triumph was the 45th of his career which began in 1956. It also means Billy would win the Kaiser last year while the two played a couple of practice rounds near home in Bonita, Calif.

"I hope you are right," Casper told Taylor, "but I don't see how you can say that the way I've been playing this year."

While Casper hoped, suddenly he became enthused himself because a new set of irons he picked up were starting to help solve his problems.

"So I came to the Kaiser relaxed and in a good frame of mind," Casper said. "I'll say for this, you have to be relaxed to play this game, and the older I get the truer it seems."

Casper, exceeded in career tour victories only by Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Arnold Palmer and Byron Nelson, gave an indication of things to come in the very first round when he shot a five under 67. That put him a stroke behind Tommy Aaron and Hugh Royer, but Billy saw something he liked very much.

"My iron shots were super," he said. "And that gave me a big lift."

Casper carried the "lift" through the next three rounds and wound up the winner by four strokes with a tourney record 19 under par 269.

"You'd have to say the iron three times in the second set."

Kingston High Rolls to Fifth Straight Win

GLOVERSVILLE Kingston High School's football team assured itself of a winning season by beating Gloversville, 21-0, here Saturday and if that thought annoys fans who are talking undefeated year then they should be reminded about what meager hopes they had when the schedule began last month.

The Maroons' win was their fifth and means that if a sudden, unexpected reversal occurs in the final three games, Kingston would still be on the plus side of .500.

But the way things are going now, and with Maroon backers not only predicting undefeated season but No. 1 ranking in the State, should Kingston have to settle for a 5-3 or 6-2 or even 7-1 mark apparently a lot of people are going to be disappointed.

Fortunately, for the Maroons, they chose to play an un-spired brand of ball against the relatively weak Huskies. All the Kingston coaches agreed after the victory that the players didn't appear to be psyched for the contest.

However, Kingston managed to get away with it by coming up with one big drive in the first quarter, a long run by Joe Riley in the second, and a big gallop by Walt Houghtaling in the fourth.

Riley, who was on the injured list last week, scored his eighth touchdown of the year late in the opening session as Kingston completed a 40 yard drive with the tailback going over from the six.

It was Riley again in period two, this time on a sparkling 41 yard end sweep.

And it was Riley who set up the final TD late in the third quarter when Coach Tony Badalato pulled out a new twist from his bag of tricks.

Riley dropped back to punt on fourth down from the KHS 20. Instead he ran . . . and did he ever . . . all the way to near midfield. Then quarterback Houghtaling journeyed all the way home on a keeper.

Each of the KHS touchdowns was capped by Bruce McCrindle extra points.

While the Maroons did appear to be sluggish for part of the ball game, final statistics revealed complete and utter domination by the Kingston powerhouse.

KHS rolled up 253 yards on the ground and 93 in the air for a total of 346. The Huskies managed just six yards rushing and 99 passing.

The Maroons' shutout was their fourth and the defense has yet to be scored upon in twenty quarters of play. Only an interception ran back for a TD by Middletown's Rick Klingman tarnishes the KHS points against column.

Kingston should have little trouble getting up for its next game as it visits Amsterdam, considered by most to be the toughest eleven on the schedule.

Highland Blanks Raiders, 21-0

By STEVE KANE

RED HOOK Perry Monroe led the show this time as Highland High School kept rolling along with a 21-0 trampling of Red Hook Saturday to run its undefeated skein in the UCL to six straight.

Monroe collected 175 yards rushing, scored two touchdowns, and kicked an extra point to power the Big Blue attack, and teammate John Barrington, a defensive standout all afternoon, grabbed a 33-yard pass from Tim Panek for another six-pointer.

In a very physical game with heavy penalties on both sides, Highland outslugged the Raiders and bottled up their running game. Red Hook quarterback Dan Theberge could only manage 17 yards in their air against the Blue.

Monroe dampened hopes of a Raider upset with a 50-yard scoring run on Highland's first offensive play of the game. Barrington ran the two-point conversion, and that's the way it stayed through the first half. An excessive number of penalties levied against both clubs thwarted any sort of sustained offense, and it wasn't until the third period that anything like a football game began to take place.

A clipping penalty on the second half kickoff nullified the Highland return, but Perry Monroe bulled into Raider territory killing 55 yards in three plays. Then Barrington caught Panek's third-and-seven pass to put the Blue 14 points up.

Red Hook, trying to get one back, lost possession on downs when the Highland defense smelled out a run from punt formation and nailed Joe Pais at the line of scrimmage. Three plays later, Bill Reid intercepted a Ron Monroe aerial, but the Raiders couldn't move this time either.

Midway through the last quarter with Highland in possession on the Red Hook seven, Perry blasted through the middle for his second score.

dragging the Raider defense with him.

Coach Lem Atkins sensed victory at this point and let Monroe kick his own extra point.

Red Hook was Highland's toughest opponent to date, and Atkins acknowledged: "We played a good football team today, but so did they. There was a lot of hitting out there."

Dancer's Son Wins

TORONTO (UPI)—One For All, a bay son of Northern Dancer, won the $71,515 Canadian International Championship Sunday by 2½ lengths at Woodbine. One For All, a ninth place finisher in France's Arc de Triomphe on Oct. 3, paid $5.70 and earned winner's purse of $41,500 for J. J. Bell III.

Williams took an Ackert lateral.

Talk about joy. The small and usually low-keyed New Paltz gathering went wild. But as noisy as it was when the Huges went ahead, that's how quiet it was when Liberty pulled it out.

"It was a tough one to lose," understated New Paltz Coach John Ford.

That about summed it up. SIDELINES—There aren't many better quarterbacks around the county than Huges star Jay Ackert. He's big, rangy, senior with plenty of savvy, a good arm, and one power pass runner . . . Liberty completed only three passes, but two were in the closing moments and cost the Huges the game.

Detroit Dressing Room Turns to Ashes

Lions' Chuck Hughes Dies

DETROIT (AP) — What does a football player say after a cause of death was likely a ruptured vessel of the aorta, heart, mates collapsed and died? "He's dead, he's dead," muttered one of the Lions as he walked sadly from the dressing room after hearing the news. "I'm horrified and shocked," said a Lions player and a great person," said Lions owner William Clay Ford, his voice quivering with grief, in a filmed interview shortly after the tragic announcement. "Everyone was praying a miracle would happen and that he would pull through," he added. Dr. Richard A. Thompson, one of two team physicians, said an autopsy would be performed today but added that Hughes and waited—hopefully, but pessimistically—for news from Henry Ford Hospital of his condition. The game that so many men have chosen to make their prime occupation had claimed a victim. It was a stunning development. It was hard for everyone to believe, including those in the crowd of 54,419 who witnessed Hughes collapse but probably didn't learn of his death until listening to radio reports in their cars enroute home. Hughes had replaced injured Larry Walton in the fourth quarter and caught a 32-yard pass from Greg Landry with pounding his chest in external massage while the other team pass was sandwiched by Bob Jefferson and Garry Lyle of the Bears. The next three plays of the desperation drives were in complete Landry passes, and it was after the third that Hughes, heading for the huddle, clutched his chest and collapsed on the 15-yard line. "He came back to the huddle and seemed okay," a spokesman quoted Landry as saying. "Nobody thought anything of it." A few crucial seconds passed before anyone realized the gravity of the injury, and Detroit officials rushed to his aid. He had been lying on his stomach but was quickly turned over, with Dr. Thompson pounding his chest in external massage while the other team physician, Dr. Edwin Guise,

Kansas City Chiefs Scalp That Other Indian Tribe

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took a full-scale Indian war to stop the rampaging Redskins and when the dust settled, it was a quite naturally—the Chiefs who subdued the tribe.

The Washington Redskins went into Sunday's National Football League action as the only undefeated team and appeared they'd stay that way as they carried a 17-6 lead into the second half against Kansas City.

But 30 minutes and three Len Dawson touchdown passes later, the Chiefs were whooping it up with a 27-20 victory.

In Sunday's other games, Chicago defeated Detroit 28-23, Miami beat the New York Jets 30-14, Philadelphia whipped the New York Giants 23-7, Dallas demolished New England 44-21, Oakland edged Cincinnati 31-27, Atlanta dumped New Orleans 28-6, Los Angeles shelved Green Bay 30-13, Denver stunned Cleveland 27-0, San Francisco slapped St. Louis 26-14 and Pittsburgh turned back Houston 23-16.

In Saturday night's lone game, San Diego smothered Buffalo 20-3. And tonight, in a nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EDT) contest that looms as a brutal defensive collision, Baltimore is at Minnesota.

Dawson, who wound up completing 10 of 23 passes for 203 yards, began hitting with consistency in the second half. He hit his favorite receiver, Otis Taylor, with scoring strikes of 26 and 28 yards and found Elmo Wright with a 15-yarder. That wiped out the first-half heroics of Washington passer Billy Kilmer, who teamed with Charley Taylor on touchdown tosses of four and 36 yards.

What would have been a day of rejoicing for the Bears became one of mourning for all of pro football as Lions wide receiver Chuck Hughes, a five-year veteran from Texas, collapsed on the field and died a short time later of what Detroit team physician Dr. Richard Thompson said was apparently a ruptured major blood vessel.

Third-string quarterback Bob- by Douglass directed the Chicago upset, throwing touchdowns of 54 and 15 yards, then plunging over from the one for the winning score.

The Cowboys opened their new home, Texas Stadium, in grand style as Roger Staubach threw touchdowns of 35 and 28 yards to Bob Hayes and ran two yards for another score against the outgunned Patriots.

George Blanda, who made a habit of saving the Raiders last season, came off the bench against the Bengals to direct his teammates to two touchdowns and a come-from-behind victory.

Another sub quarterback, Dick Shiner of the Falcons, also sparked as he passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third against the Saints.

Roman Gabriel was the Rams' star, passing for three touchdowns in their victory over the Packers while the Broncos held the Browns' potent ground game to a measly 36 yards in their upset romp.

Giants-Eagles, A Travesty

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There wasn't any wild celebration in the Philadelphia Eagles' dressing room after Sunday's victory over the New York Giants. Maybe the Eagles realized they merely had been the winner of a travesty on professional football.

Perhaps it's unkind to downgrade the first Philadelphia victory after five humiliating defeats, but the football played in the rain at Veterans Stadium was sloppy. It was difficult to determine whether the Giants lost or the Eagles won.

New York fumbled five times and the Eagles recovered four of them enroute to a 23-7 National Football League triumph.

Happy Feller, the rookie from Texas, kicked three field goals of 20, 10, and 30 yards. Al Davis scored a first period touchdown and Larry Watkins a final-quarter six-pointer.

The Giants trailed 13-0 in the second period before a 41-yard kickoff return put them in position for a 47-yard touchdown drive. Rookie Charley Evans scored from the one. It was the beginning and the end of New York's scoring.

There was more talk of mustaches in the Eagles dressing room Ed Khayat said he Head coach Ed Khayat said he didn't believe his mustache-must-go ultimatum of last week had any affect on the game. He felt the fine blocking of his offensive guards opened up the outside running game and made the inside rushes more effective.

The key to the Eagles' victory was Feller's three field goals. The 22-year-old place-kicker was two for nine before Sunday's game. He had been kicking so poorly that he sat by his locker and cried after one game. The Eagles indicated their concern when they signed New Orleans' castoff field goal kicker Tom Dempsey last week and placed him on the taxi squad.

Whether the signing of Dempsey lit a fuse under Feller is not certain. The sensitive Texan doesn't like the postgame questioning. He gets dressed fast and ducks out a side entrance before he can be reached. He did miss his first try Sunday, from the 22, and he had another attempt blocked.

The Eagles had their best day running with the ball this season. It was hard to tell if it was effective offensive blocking or sloppy New York tackling. The Giants appeared to have played to explain fumbles. If you tell him (ball carrier) to hold the ball tight, he forgets how to run.

The Giants' Tarkenton put the defeat in its proper perspective when he said, "They got four fumbles and one interception which gave them good field position on a wet field, and they didn't see fit to fumble. They had a plus-five advantage on turnovers."

New York coach Alex Webster said there was no explanation for the epidemic of fumbles that has hit the Giants three weeks running. "I carried the ball myself and there is no way to explain fumbles. If you tell him (ball carrier) to hold the ball tight, he forgets how to run."

As for the Giants' shoddy tackling, Webster said, "you can't beat anybody tackling like that."

Tab Old Man Greer As Just Cavalier

By The Associated Press

At 35, Hal Greer is considered old for a pro basketball player. Don't tell that to Greer—or the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Philadelphia's aging—or is it ageless?—backcourt star appeared quite spry Sunday night, pouring in 29 points and sparking the surprising 76ers to a 111-93 triumph over the Cavaliers.

Greer, now in his 13th season in the National Basketball Association, is only one of six players in league history to score more than 20,000 points in his career. He started the season as No. 6 with 20,410 points, 470 behind fifth-place Bob Pettit, who retired with 20,880 points.

Greer also ranked second in games played, third in minutes played, fourth in field goals made, third in field goals attempted, eighth in assists and second in personal fouls.

The victory boosted Philadelphia's record to 5-1, tops in the Atlantic Division.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Los Angeles downed winless Houston 113-103, Seattle whipped Cincinnati 119-101, and Chicago edged Phoenix 105-104.

Los Angeles overcame an 80-78 third-period deficit by outscoring Houston 35-23 in the fourth quarter to hand the Rockets their sixth straight setback. Gail Goodrich paced the Lakers with 31 points and Flynn Robinson chipped in with 22. Elvin Hayes led the Rockets with 35 points, 18 in the first quarter.

What does an ecstatic coach say after a 63-21 college football victory?

"The good thing was that we got to play a lot of kids," was Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's understated offering after his Syracuse gang obliterated outmanned Holy Cross Saturday.

One of Coach Schwartzwalder's bench-warming kids, sophomore tailback Ron Page of Schenectady, romped for touchdowns on two of his first three varsity carries.

Schwartzwalder also got superb efforts from fullback Roger Praetorius, who ran for two scores, and reserve quarterback Frank Ruggiero, who tossed for two others.

The list of contenders for college football's national championship is down to seven today and certain to shrink even more in future head-to-head skirmishes.

The top eight teams in The Associated Press rankings were unbeaten before Saturday's action but sixth-ranked Notre Dame's annual demise at the hands of Southern California—the score was 28-14—eliminated the Irish for the second year in a row.

Nebraska's defending national champions, top-rated again, rolled over Oklahoma State 41-13 while runner-up Oklahoma set a major college rushing record of 711 yards in trampling Kansas State 75-28. The Cornhuskers and the Sooners do battle Thanksgiving Day in Norman, Okla.

Third-ranked Michigan kept pace with a 35-7 victory over Minnesota. Alabama, rated fourth, and No. 5 Auburn kept rolling toward their Nov. 27 date in Birmingham, Ala. The Crimson Tide downed Houston 34-20 and the Tigers polished off Clemson 35-13.

First, however, Auburn must

Ushers Return After Walkout

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—Ushers who struck the Rochester Americans hockey club and forced postponement of Friday's Rochester-Boston Braves game returned to their jobs Sunday night under a tentative agreement.

Some 28 ushers had refused work to protest the hiring of female ushers by the American Hockey League club for its home games in War Memorial Auditorium.

A spokesman for the Americans said both sides would meet this week to work out details leading to a permanent settlement. The ushers agreed to work Sunday after the initial pact was reached.

Under the tentative agreement, club officials employed eight women and 24 men, instead of 28 male ushers who belong to a 100-member union local.

Some 4,000 fans were turned away at the doors because of the work refusal Friday night. The Rochester-Boston game was not immediately rescheduled, a spokesman said.

get by Georgia, a third Southeastern Conference challenger, on the road Nov. 13. The eighth-ranked Bulldogs turned back stubborn Kentucky 34-0 Saturday.

Notre Dame's defeat left seventh-ranked Penn State as the only unbeaten independent after the Nittany Lions claved Texas Christian 66-14.

The only other major teams with perfect slates are Toledo of the Mid-American Conference and Cornell and Dartmouth in the Ivy League. If past voting is any indication, none can expect to reach the top.

Only Toledo is ranked at present and the Rockets, tied for 14th stretched the nation's longest winning streak to 30 games by defeating Dayton 35-7. That tied the Texas teams of 1968-70 for the third longest winning streak of modern times and left the Rockets one behind Oklahoma's second-best mark of 31 set from 1948-50.

Rounding out the Top Ten once-beaten Arkansas walloped North Texas State 60-21 while No. 10 Stanford suffered its second setback, bowing 24-23 to surprising Washington State on Don Sweet's 27-yard field goal as time ran out.

Oklahoma, as usual, was paced by zig-zagging Greg Pruitt, who gained 294 yards in 19 carries and broke Gale Sayers' single-game, Big Eight record. Pruitt scored three times, Jack Mildren added 156 yards and two touchdowns and sub halfback Roy Bell scored four times.

Another record-breaker was Michigan's Billy Taylor, whose 166 yards erased Ron Johnson's career rushing mark. Taylor has 2,522 and he also scored two touchdowns.

Alabama's Johnny Musso scored twice against Houston and set a Southeastern Conference career record of 212 points.

Auburn's Pat Sullivan passed for 230 yards against Clemson and moved into sixth place on the all-time NCAA total offense list and sophomore linebacker Mike Flynn scored on a fumble recovery and set up another touchdown with an interception. Penn State turned Lydell Mitchell loose for 177 yards and four touchdowns against Texas Christian, tying Charley Pittman's one-season career mark of 14 TDs.

Georgia led Kentucky only 6-0 at the half but Buzzy Rosenberg's dazzling 56-yard punt return and Jerome Jackson's pass interception set up two third-period scores that broke it open.

In games involving Second Ten teams, No. 11 Colorado defeated Missouri 27-7 and No. 12 Ohio State trounced Wisconsin 31-6 with Morris Bradshaw scoring on an 88-yard run and an 88-yard kickoff return. Louisiana State, ranked 13th, was idle.

Dan White threw for six touchdowns in leading Arizona State, tied for 14th with Toledo, over New Mexico 60-28; No. 16 Texas intercepted six passes and whipped Rice 39-10; Illinois surprised No. 17 Purdue 21-7; No. 18 Tennessee edged Mississippi State 10-7; Navy upset No. 19 Duke 15-14 and No. 20 Air Force shaded Colorado State 17-12.

OCS Rips Rondout, 28-12

By CHARLES J. TIANO Sports Editor

STONE RIDGE

There was joy in the foothills of the Catskills around Boiceville Sunday morning. Onteora High's all-purpose quarterback, Danny Brown, is whole and ready for next Saturday's game at Liberty.

The scrappy young signal caller, who was one of the big stars in Onteora's 28-12 romp over host Rondout Valley here Saturday, was clobbered after getting off a 17-yard touchdown pass to Tom Sebald for Onteora's fourth and final touchdown just moments before the end of the game.

The Rondout offensive unit hit Brown hard but cleanly and he had to be taken out of the game. He never lost consciousness but was rushed to the Kingston Hospital in a station wagon and released after treatment.

The report on Brown was that he suffered contusions of the lower back and had other bruises, but X-rays revealed no internal damage and he was sent home for a couple days' rest.

The Onteora rooters, luxuriating in the Indians' fine first half performance, were shocked by the last-minute development and the taste of ashes was everywhere.

It was a good and bad day for Onteora's aggressive quarterback, good mechanically and bad physically. He completed 7 of 12 passes, threw for two touchdowns and figured in a pair of two-point conversions as the Indians romped to a 22-0 half-time lead.

Early in the second quarter, Brown engineered a 35-yard Onteora TD march after Kurt Weinberg had recovered a fumble on the Rondout 35. Joe Phelan, who had an outstanding day, ran for 11 and 10 yards. John Langling carried to the 8. On the next play, Brown rolled out to the left on a pass play, couldn't spot an open man, and barreled to the 1-yard line, crashing over the flag marker. He had the wind knocked out but recovered quickly enough to rush for the 2-point conversion after a time out.

Charlie Mazzola, the substitute quarterback, blasted in for the touchdown after Brown's gallop. Later in the period, Phelan romped 65 yards with an intercepted pass for Onteora's third touchdown of the first half.

Outplayed and outclassed for nearly three quarters, Coach Mickey Million's Ganders came alive late in the third quarter and completely dominated the final quarter.

With Scott Smith gouging huge chunks of yardage, the revived Ganders marched 94 yards for their first score. Smith, one of the hardest running backs in the UCL, carried 10 times during the drive, with a long gallop of 24 yards. An offside penalty pushed Onteora back to its own 14. Smith slammed to the 6, then to the one and Huyler Van Wagenen slammed over for the touchdown. Smith was stopped in his bid for a 2-point conversion.

Smith, who rolled up 140 yards during the game, set the stage for the Ganders' second TD. After OCS surrendered the ball on downs on the Rondout 27, the Ganders roared back 73 yards in four plays for another score. Smith romped to the OCS 44, recovered his own fumble on the Onteora 48, got back to the 41. On the next play, Bob Davenport faked thrust at the left side, cut across to the right and scampered into the right corner of the end zone 41 yards for the score. Smith was again stopped in a 2-point bid.

With the momentum on their side, the Ganders tried an outside kick on the next kickoff but Onteora recovered, moved to the Rondout 12 and then gave up the ball on the Rondout 17.

Onteora smothered three passes and snowed a fourth down slam to take over and set up Brown's touchdown pass to Sebald, who just squeezed into the end zone, while Brown was getting clobbered around the 27.

The victory was the fourth in six UCL starts for Coach Ganders are now 2 and 4.

Rangers-Penguins in Tie

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For 54 minutes Sunday night, the New York Rangers and Pittsburgh Penguins seemed headed for a tie, and a scoreless one at that.

A tie is where the two National Hockey League teams wound up at too, but it wasn't scoreless. New York's Vic Hadfield and Pittsburgh's Jean Pronovost traded late goals 32 seconds apart, resulting in a 1-1 deadlock.

and again, Rutherford made the save.

But he sprawled face down on the ice afterwards and had to be carried off the ice with possible torn ligaments in his right leg.

Les Binkley came in and the action shifted to the Ranger end when Villemure had to be sharp on several Penguin shots. Then, in the second period, the Rangers really went into the pressure cooker with two defensemen, Dale Rolfe and Brad Park, both drew minor penalties at 8:2.

That gave the Penguins a two-man advantage with five skaters against three for a full two minutes. It was not the safe time for Villemure and the defensemen Rod Seiling and Jim Neilson went for the full two minutes with forwards

Bruce MacGregor and Walt Tkaczuk splitting the two-minute penalty-killing job up front. They allowed only two dangerous drives, both handled easily by Villemure.

"You try to keep them out of the net," said Seiling. "You want to give the goalie a chance to see the shot and knock it down."

Villemure and the three Ranger penalty killers worked off the double sentence perfectly and with neither team able to finish off an attack, the game seemed destined to end in a tie, it ended 1-1.

In other NHL action the California Golden Seals ripped the Detroit Red Wings 6-3 for their first victory of the National Hockey League season.

INFIRMARY BOUND — Linesman Neil Armstrong (8) assists as Pittsburgh Penguins' starting goalie Jim Rutherford is carried off the ice on a stretcher with an apparent injury to his right shin bone. The injury occurred early in Sunday's game with the New York Rangers which ended in a 1-1 tie. Rutherford was making a superb stop on a Bill Fairbairn break-away when hurt. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

ELLENVILLE — Pine Bush kept Ellenville in the ranks of the winless here Saturday by scoring a 1-1 tie over the home team.

It was the Bushmen's third victory against three losses and Ellenville's sixth straight defeat.

Pine Bush got on the scoreboard first in the second quarter as Ernie Young completed a drive by going over from the two.

Ellenville cut the margin in half in the third quarter as Steve Tennenbaum lofted a five yard field goal.

But Pine Bush put the game on ice when Bob Kirby ran in from the eight and Stan Filip hit John Griffin for the two points.

Pine Bush dominated the statistics by racking up 200 total yards to 120 by Ellenville. This week Pine Bush hosts New Paltz while Ellenville is

Kickers Upended

UNION, N.J. — The Kingston Kickers dropped their fourth straight Premier Division soccer match Sunday, this one to the Newark Soccer Club by a 2-1 score.

Under extremely wet field conditions and in a hard rain, both clubs found it virtually impossible to set up plays, and most of the action was simply kick and run.

At the four minute mark of the first half, Newark's Otto Weber slipped one through the water past goalie Ron Valle to give the home team an early lead.

Newark built it to 2-0 with seven minutes gone in the second half on a Dieter Weisner kick.

With 30 minutes left in the game, Gino Ventriglia finally found the range for the Kickers on an assist from Bob Joyet. Back in the game, Kingston's offense found some impetus and began to press the Newark defense.

But the threats never materialized, and the clock ran out with the Newark goal intact. The loss was the fifth in six outings for the Kickers, who

Ulster Boots New York, 3-2

MORGAN HILL — Ulster County Community College ran its soccer record to five wins and three losses Saturday by defeating a good New York City CC team 3-2 in two overtimes here.

Mike Romano, Klaus Weber and Frank Goglia scored goals for the winners, but it was a reserve goalie who turned the tide for UCCC.

With New York leading 2-1 in the third period Sigurd Samuelsen took over the net tending duties for Ulster.

"He was excellent," said coach George Vizvary after the game. "He made some spectacular saves and was really the turning point for us."

Romano's goal at 2:30 of the first period stood up until New York's inside left Gourdain penetrated the Ulster defense at 1:20 of the third. Gourdain got another at 3:45 to give the visitors a brief lead.

Less than two minutes later, Frank Goglia, fielding an assist from Marc, tied the game at 2-2.

The winning point came in the first overtime period at the 3:28 mark by Weber on an assist from Fernando Nasmyth.

"The boys played well together," said Vizvary. "and this was a good team they beat. They are, however, as unpredictable as ever."

Monday the Ulster booters journey to Kingsborough, and Wednesday they host Bard College.

Fourth Shutout for NPS

NEW PALTZ — The troubled but still talented New Paltz State soccer team came up with its fourth shutout of the season Saturday by taking care of visiting Geneseo State, 5-0.

"We took complete charge early," said pleased Hawk Coach Bob Durkin. "and I don't think Geneseo ever got untracked. The fellows really wanted this one so they would have a big victory going into the Oneonta game Wednesday."

New Paltz got its big effort from a still small squad which has been rocked with injuries and academic problems, the latest being the just discovered Schaeffer, who qualifies under NCAA regulations but not under NAIA rules.

After a scoreless first quarter, New Paltz started to roll at 1:22 of the second as Jerry Soulios hit the net from about seven yards out on a pass from Barry Forbes.

The Soulios from Forbes combination worked again at 11:37 of the second, this time Jerry knocking one home off of a deflection.

Dave Pallotta made it 3-0 as he took a beautiful pass from Gary Hahn at 16:05 and fired a shot into the upper left corner of the cage.

Forbes scored the fourth goal at 12:03 of the third session on a cross from Metcalf King.

King had not been in uniform for the start of the contest as an injured eye had not responded to treatment. But after the first quarter Metcalf climbed out of the stands, went into the locker room, and onto the field.

to complete a hat trick. It came on a penalty shot at 21:29 of the third.

"Soulios played a tremendous game," said Durkin. "not just because of his goals. He also had some beautiful passes out there. Richie Schimmel also

Duck Dance Wins Vosburgh Waltz

By United Press International
Duck Dance did some fancy stepping at Aqueduct Saturday when he won the $61,100 Vosburgh Handicap by three lengths.

The 4-year-old colt shot out of the gate and quickly opened up a six-length lead on the far turn and then coasted home an easy winner over Summer Air, who had two lengths on third place

State Teachers Pledge One Organizational Roof

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y., selected Shanker without a formal balloting procedure, as he would give prime consideration during his term to seeking a merger between the new United Teachers and their rival union, the New York State Teachers Association.

The rival Teachers Association represents about 100,000 teachers across the state, primarily in areas outside of New York City.

The majority of the members of the new group headed by Shanker are also members of the UFT in the city.

Shanker said the teachers group would begin to implement programs designed to increase union membership by enlisting teachers from private and parochial schools.

The new union is an outgrowth of the New York State Federation of Teachers. Shanker will serve a two year term as president.

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, October 26

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for you to organize your life on a secure, practical foundation that means so much to you. You are also able to work all kinds of interesting angles towards getting your talents and inventions before others so you can have a considerable amount of this world's goods.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact bigwigs who can assist you to become more successful in whatever your career may be. Demonstrate your finest talents, give a clear outline of them. Get into civic work that is also helpful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Correspond with those out of town who can further your ambitions, or your desire to know what your true position is with them. Encouraging a new contact will lead to something very good. Think and act positively.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make it your business to get Plan what should be done to make family matters work out better; stop daydreaming and be more practical. Do some work with tools. Buy gifts that please kin a great deal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get together with persons who can help you be more successful and happy, instead of wasting time with others who do just the opposite. Handle those travel problems well. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan to add to present assets in a clever way instead of spending more money. Contact some good advisor who has fine ideas to give you. Evening can be most productive socially.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan how to gain your finest goals and take the initial steps in such directions. Have a detailed plan set up to follow wisely. Get into group affairs where you rub elbows with those who can help you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Proper preparation is the keynote to your success now, so contact good advisors who can help you do just that. Being of assistance to others is important. Store up blessings for yourself for the future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contact good friends you like and have a delightful time with them which gives better rapport for the future. Some personal aim can be realized now. Make sure you control your temper with others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people who has great ability at organization and for that reason can become most successful at whatever is tackled throughout the lifetime. Encourage to smile more, since the nature here is a serious one, and others would not be attracted to your youngster otherwise. Teach also to answer letters promptly for best results, since there is a tendency to neglect some important communication.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

AGE DIFFERENCE: (Q.) I don't mean to put you down but you are always telling some girl not to go with a boy more than three years older than she is. I am 16 and I seldom see boys my age that I like. I am looking for a boy with more than good looks. I want him to have depth in mind.

I prefer guys in their 20s because they are less shallow in their thoughts. They have had time to discover what they want in life. They have character. This is more important than looks.

If I could find someone like this my own age that would be fine. But so far I haven't. Do you still say I should go with a boy not older than 17-16 in Texas.

(A.) You have a strong mind, and you have made it up. Your attitude may make sense for you, and I will not quarrel with it.

But I get many letters from girls of 14 who have become too deeply involved with young men of 20. I get a number of letters from girls of your age who are in this same predicament.

Once a girl is 17, she is not so likely to get into trouble with a grown young man. When she is 19, she is usually mature enough to make major decisions about love, education, career and the like.

You may have the mind of the average girl of 19. I hope you do. But just the same, be careful with these young men you like who know what they want.

BOOTS: (Q.) I am getting new boots, but don't know which kind to buy. plain or granny style. I am about 5 feet 4 and have long legs. Ready to Buy in New York.

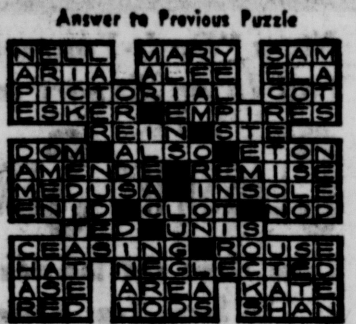

(A.) With your long legs, you can wear just about any style to advantage. Most girls find plain boots more useful. They go better with different outfits and do not usually give the legs a big look. Fancied up boots sometimes do.

As you buy, notice that some of the boots are taller this year. One of these plain, tall designs might be best for you.

Usual Weekend on Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The weekend network television fare was pretty much of the usual Friday-through-Sunday mix of sports and entertainment with two made-for-TV film features adding a special degree of interest.

There was Mia Farrow in Friday's "Goodbye, Raggedy Ann," which was really more of a character sketch than drama. Saturday brought a remake of the 40-year-old play "Death Takes a Holiday," a fantasy for ABC's "Movie of the Week."

Miss Farrow, rarely seen on television, was effective and believable as a self-centered, immature young woman determined to succeed in Hollywood. She doggedly persisted in following her ambitions, unconcerned about and almost unaware of the shabby way she was using people toward that end. She failed, of course, but the way her struggle was shown brought to mind the careers of so many who tried but—lacking some essential star quality—ultimately failed and disappeared.

"Death Takes a Holiday" was briskly rewritten for television to include some up-to-date commentary, including environmental pollution, but somewhere along the way lost its quality of a dream.

Yvette Mimieux played—and very well, too—the girl who was spared when death took a few days off to assume human form and to fail in love.

Monte Markham as death was far short of convincing. Old pros Melvin Douglas and Myrna Loy—playing the parents of a large family frequently hit by tragedy—had lesser roles but added dignity and some degree of believability to the tale.

Young viewers who expected to watch the dog Snoopy of TV's animated "Charlie Brown" series taking part in an ice show—as promised by the title of NBC's Sunday Night Special—had to be disappointed. The hour was just a standard TV skating show and Snoopy turned out to be a skater dressed up in a dog costume.

But skating shows, like circus shows, invariably attract big television audiences even when they look like photocopies of some master production. So they keep coming along. "Snoopy at the Ice Follies" was just another one of these.

Neck and Neck Race in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats said the race was still neck and neck today as the General Assembly neared a vote on whether to oust Nationalist China from the United Nations. Some said it might end in a tie.

The key issue was an American resolution to make the ouster an "important question," requiring a two-thirds majority for passage.

"We think we're going to win that vote," said a spokesman for the U.S. delegation. One diplomat friendly to the American cause figured they had a 58-57 or 59-57 advantage with more favorable votes possible.

However, another friendly diplomat calculated the vote at 59-58 against the resolution or a 58-58 tie. Other assessments were that from 58 to 61 delegations were ready to vote against it and only from 56 to 58 were for it.

Should there be a tie, a second vote would be taken within 48 hours. If the tie persisted, the resolution would fail.

Assembly President Adam Malik of Indonesia was said to hope the vote could come late today. But key delegations believed the voting would start Tuesday.

The "important question" resolution was crucial because the Albanian resolution to seat the Chinese Communists and oust the Nationalists is certain to get a majority in the Assembly but not a two-thirds majority.

The Albanian resolution was entitled to be voted on first because it was submitted first. But the United States had a motion pending to give its resolution priority.

The United States was also pushing a "dual representation" resolution to offer both the Communists and the Nationalists seats in the Assembly and offer the Communists the Chinese seat on the Security Council.

Peking has said repeatedly that they would have nothing to do with the United Nations as long as the Nationalists remain in it. Their supporters in the world organization say they mean it, but the Americans say there is no way to tell without trying them out.

The United States made one gain Sunday when officials in Rome said Italy would vote for the Albanian resolution but would abstain from the vote on the important question resolution. Many observers had believed Italy would vote against it.

Sources in Jerusalem said the Israeli Cabinet decided Sunday that Israel would vote for the U.S. resolution but this had been generally expected.

The 23 sponsors of the Albanian resolution planned a last-minute strategy session today to discuss whether, in case their resolution failed, a proposal should be put in to make the American dual representation resolution an "important question" needing a two-thirds majority.

Saudi Arabia has proposed amendments to the Albanian resolution to invite the Communists to represent mainland China and notify the Nationalists that they represent only Taiwan. These appear to have no chance of passage.

Johnson Claims Plan Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lyndon B. Johnson said he rejected a Pentagon proposal to increase U.S. troop strength to 680,000 in South Vietnam and to expand the war into Laos and Cambodia.

The actual peak of U.S. manpower in South Vietnam reached 542,500 men in February, 1969.

Johnson, writing in his forthcoming book "Vantage Point: Perspectives of the Presidency 1963-1969," said the Defense Department made the proposal in April, 1967. Excerpts were published today in the Washington Post.

The former president said two plans were offered, one for an increase of 80,000 men and another for "optimum force."

"The second suggested an increase in our forces of four and two-thirds divisions and 10 air squadrons, raising our force level in Vietnam by 200,000 to a total of 680,000 men by July 1968. The military planners were also considering a program of increased air strikes against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces that were enjoying almost complete sanctuary in Laos and Cambodia. Possible ground action against the southern part of North Vietnam was also studied on a contingency basis."

The plan was offered by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. Forces in South Vietnam from 1964 to 1968, and opposed by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Johnson said.

In excerpts published Sunday, Johnson said top defense planners knew a large-scale enemy action was coming before the Communist Tet offensive began Jan. 30, 1968.

But it turned out to be "more massive than we had anticipated," he said. Both sides suffered record casualties.

"We knew that the Communists were aiming at a number of population centers, but we did not expect them to attack as many as they did. We knew that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong were trying to achieve better coordination of their countryside moves; we did not believe that they would be able to carry out the level of coordination they demonstrated."

"We expected a large force to attack; it was larger than we had estimated. Finally, it was difficult to believe that the Communists would so profane their own people's sacred holiday."

However, Johnson wrote, the Tet thrust had its positive aspects. These included failure of the Communists to mobilize local support in the South, to mount a major offensive against the Khe Sanh Fortress, to shatter South Vietnamese morale or to outfight South Vietnamese military units.

Johnson said he now thinks that he and other national leaders should have done more to inform Congress and prepare the American public about the military offensive they were sure was coming.

31 Killed in S. Viet Air Force Plane Crash

SAIGON (UPI)—A South Vietnamese air force C47 passenger plane carrying 31 persons crashed Sunday three miles south of Qui Nhon in the central part of the country because of bad weather. All aboard were killed, military spokesmen said today.

The crash occurred about 28 hours after typhoon Hester hit Quang Ngai, 100 miles to the north, but spokesmen said it could not be directly attributed to the typhoon. None of those aboard was believed American.

As government and U.S. troops swarmed out to aid in rescue and relief efforts following the disastrous typhoon, battle action was reported light throughout South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese soldiers today killed 40 guerrillas in scattered clashes, mostly in the southern half of the country, the Saigon command said. U.S. B52 bombers concentrated their fire on Communist supply routes in Laos and Cambodia, U.S. spokesmen said.

Field reports today said destruction and casualties caused by Hester Saturday were much heavier at both civilian centers and U.S. bases than earlier reports indicated.

Whole towns and villages in the northern coastal areas were virtually wiped out by Hester, which slammed ashore with 140 m.p.h. winds at Quang Ngai City 320 miles north-northeast of Saigon and then bounced along 200 miles of coastline, the reports said.

The worst damage to U.S. installations was believed at Chu Lai, headquarters of the 23rd Infantry Division (Americal), about 40 miles north of Quang Ngai in Ly Tin District.

At least 12 hangars on the big airfield there collapsed and 30 helicopters were destroyed or heavily damaged. Another 35 U.S. helicopters were damaged in other parts of the affected area.

Casualty reports from the devastated areas said at least 64 persons, including three Americans, were killed. They said another 31 South Vietnamese were injured, while U.S. military spokesmen listed at least 41 Americans as injured.

The Ministry of Social Welfare said 200,000 persons were homeless, adding that they expected the toll to rise radically as communications to the north were restored.

President Nguyen Van Thieu, in a statement back-dated to Sunday, said he has taken personal charge of relief efforts in the battered north. The typhoon "has caused great damage to you, my compatriots, most of all in Quang Ngai," he said.

Meanwhile, dozens of American helicopters flew mercy missions into the five northern provinces, airlifting food, medical supplies and construction materials to the worst-hit areas.

The helicopters, most of them from the 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile) stationed near the old imperial capital of Hue, also ferried refugees to high ground from the flooded lowlands. U.S. spokesmen said more than 300 individual flights were made on Sunday alone.

U.S. officers at Chu Lai said the base, which was 80 per cent destroyed, would be completely rebuilt and turned over to the South Vietnamese.

Antiwar Amendment Nears Senate Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A double-barreled antiwar amendment appears likely to pass the Senate and move to an uncertain House fate, perhaps before President Nixon's next Vietnam troop withdrawal announcement Nov. 15.

The Senate amendment to the foreign aid bill would require total U.S. withdrawal within six months and would cut off funds for American military operations throughout Indochina except the amount necessary for withdrawing forces and protecting the pull-out.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Saturday the amendment "should end the stalemate" and insure the swift return of U.S. soldiers and prisoners of war.

Senate debate begins Tuesday on the bill which would also limit U.S. spending and personnel in Cambodia and expand the committee's jurisdiction over all U.S. aid in Southeast Asia.

Although the House has consistently rejected similar amendments, the margin has narrowed to fewer than 30 votes despite vigorous White House lobbying against such measures.

Pentagon sources have indicated the President could announce a total withdrawal of American ground combat troops by next July and possibly sooner.

But the White House has given no indication of the magnitude of next month's announcement.

Meanwhile, a British guerrilla warfare expert predicted the phase-out of American ground troops will be virtually complete "within a month or two."

Sir Robert Thompson, a personal consultant to Nixon on Indochina, said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report:

"I can hardly imagine that within a month or two any American ground forces will be involved in combat other than those who are providing close security at American bases."

Thompson said the pace of troop withdrawal could be stepped up so that no more than 50,000 would remain in Vietnam by next summer.

The antiwar amendment, the Foreign Relations Committee asserted, would "declare a clear national policy in Indochina" for withdrawal in six months if American prisoners were freed.

The amendment incorporates the Mansfield amendment setting the six-month deadline which passed the Senate and was defeated on a procedural

Council Director Sees Case Balance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the Cost of Living Council says it "would be an incredible burden" for the Pay Board and Price Commission to rule on every requested salary or price hike during Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic stabilization program.

Instead, says director Donald Rumsfeld, he expects the panels to strike a balance between a case-by-case approach and wage-price freeze.

Rumsfeld stressed in an Associated Press interview that he did not want to preempt any of the board's options.

"We have to recognize that the President created the Pay Board and Price Commission to make the decisions," Rumsfeld said. "And I think this is worth underlining. Those who have suggested that things are confusing because there's not a government edict on every aspect of this are wrong."

"The choice the President made was to have a process that would involve the Board and the Commission and they would make those kinds of judgments in an orderly way."

Meanwhile, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, called for an outright ban on corporate mergers during Nixon's Phase 2.

Many of the nation's price problems "stem directly from the concentration of economic power in certain industries," Patman maintained Sunday.

Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson predicted the wage and price boards will focus on big industries such as the nation's 500 largest corporations.

Hodgson, interviewed on WRC television in Washington Sunday, said he expects the boards to proceed case-by-case with no fixed limits for acceptable wage-and-price increases.

In his interview Rumsfeld acknowledged that there have been complaints from the business community that businessmen haven't been told precisely how Phase 2 will affect their pricing policies.

"...They will know in good time," Rumsfeld said. "The kind of information that the private sector needs to comply will certainly be forthcoming."

Rumsfeld, a former congressman who is retaining his title as counselor to the President while heading the COLC, was asked, "Do you think it would be a lot clearer if a general wage standard were put out, rather than developing specific case-by-case standards?"

"If I said yes," he responded, "someone conceivably could take that and go to the Pay Board or Price Commission and say, 'This is what the COLC director thinks.' It is not helpful for the government to seemingly pre-empt options for the members by setting a narrow backdrop for their deliberations."

"A freeze is perfectly clear and simple," he added. "It is also unfair—it is inequitable by definition. A total case-by-case approach would theoretically be better tailored to personal situations. It would be an incredible burden for the Pay Board and the Price Commission to have to make those kinds of judgments for every single economic activity in this country. Now somewhere in between is where they are going to come out...."

On the ABC-TV program "Issues and Answers" Sunday, Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, said he believes the Pay Board would permit already-negotiated pay hikes for union workers to go into effect retroactively when Phase 1 ends Nov. 13. Woodcock is one of five labor members on the 15-member Pay Board.

Rumsfeld agreed the board has the power to allow workers to collect wage increases retroactively, but he would not predict what the tri-partite panel might do.

In New York, The New York Times reported retailers have illegally increased the price of meat as much as 10 cents a pound since the Aug. 15 declaration of a freeze.

The newspaper said in today's editions that a state Department of Agriculture report showed increases on seven cuts of meat out of 27 examined in a 10-week study.
